Huron offers cheese to needy

Huron Township officials have set aside three days to distribute federal surplus cheese to qualifying township residents.

Low income and needy families may pick up the 5-pound blocks of cheese from 9 a.m. until 4 p.m. on Wed., May 18, Thurs. May 19 and Fri., May 20.

The distribution will take place at Renton Junior High School, 31578 Huron River Drive.

'Youth Day' set in Romulus

Saturday is "Youth Day" at the Romulus Michigan Week festival. Youth Day activities will begin at 10 a.m. and will run until noon in the festival area.

Activities include a worm and crawl, frog jumping contest, bubble gum blowing contest, bean bag toss, clothes pin drop, an obstacle course and, for toddlers, a "diaper derby".

Saturday also will be a special discount day for all youth for rides at the W.G. Wade Shows carnival.

'Footloose and Fancyfree'

The "Footloose and Fancyfree" will perform at 7:30 p.m. on Saturday and 2:30 p.m. on Sunday at New Boston Huron High School. The show is the fourth annual spring musical. Each class writes its own musical skit and makes its own costumes.

Six Huron Senior citizens choirs, an army of 150, will perform and a plaque will be presented to the oldest choir member.

Bizek vs. Romulus

Decision delayed for another week

Whether 10 former Romulus city employees and department heads who contend that they were fired in 1975 because of "political reasons" will receive back pay and compensation remains in the hands of the court.

Judge John C. Seiler, of the 29th District Court, said today that he is still researching the case "and will not be ready to hand down a decision for at least another week."

The case, known as "Bizek vs. City of Romulus," was heard in the 29th District Court two weeks ago. The plaintiffs include Edmund Bizek who, along with several other employees Robert Plank, Barry Baumann, James Rafford and Carol Bales have argued that when the Stewart Administration took office in 1975 they were either released from their employment without due cause or for political affiliations.

"It is a complicated case," said Judge Seiler, "and I am researching the issues involved. I can't comment on the case at the present moment."

"Hopefully I will have a decision for the parties involved by next week," Judge Seiler added.

Blackboard flu

Romulus teachers phone in sick

A sudden rash of "blackboard flu" hit the Romulus Community School District last week as a score of teachers phoned in that they were ill.

More than half of the teachers at Halecreek School, 16200 Harrison, failed to show up for classes, while some teachers at the Romulus Junior High School also were out. However, the "no show" of some of the teachers didn't disrupt classes, according to Dr. Terry LeCesne, assistant superintendent of schools.

"A number of our teachers did call in sick," Dr. LeCesne confirmed. He noted that the "sick teachers" were concentrated at Halecreek and the junior high. Of the 17 teachers at Halecreek, nine were out.

"We didn't have to close any schools," Dr. LeCesne continued, "and we had substitute teachers where we could get them and none of the planned activities for the day had to be cancelled."

All of the teachers were back in their classrooms the following day, school officials said. Teachers who didn't have prior approval to be absent from classrooms on Thursday were told by the school administration that they must present a medical statement before the finance department would consider paying them for the missed day.

"The majority of them presented statements," Dr. LeCesne said, "however, I should point out and I want to make this perfectly clear, that not all of the teachers who were absent called in sick that morning. There were some teachers whose absences had been prearranged and approved and those people are not included in the total count."

Teachers in the school district have been at odds with the administration since last December when the school board voted to rollback teachers' salaries 14 percent. The 269 teachers in the district have been working without a contract since August of 1982. They also consider that they are working "as free labor since Thursday because of the salary rollback."

Had the administration anticipated the "blackboard flu" epidemic?

"We had heard that there was going to be some sort of job action on that Thursday for at least two weeks. There was a demonstration at the Board of Education meeting," Dr. LeCesne said.

Huron, police contract slated for mediation

By JERRY DESHARNAIS
(Special ANP Writer)

The Huron Police-Township wage-salary deadlock, almost a year old, waits a mediation attempt within a few weeks.

If it is unsuccessful, as some expect, arbitration will begin in late June.

The dispute concerns the wages for the police for the second and third years of a three-year contract.

The contract, agreed on April 1, 1981, gave a seven percent increase the first year, but left the second two years open for re-negotiation.

Since May, 1981, three or four negotiation sessions have been held but no headway made, the Township offering zero raise for the two years.

The parties got to the end of what was felt to be fruitful negotiations around January, according to Larry Gregory, the Teamsters' Representative in the negotiations for Local 129 of the Huron Township Police Officers Association.

At that point, both employer and union agreed they should go directly to arbitration.

Gregory filed a petition of arbitration which would call in an outside, impartial third party to set the terms that both would have to agree to.

The petition was filed with MERC (Michigan Employment Relations Commission) but it was kicked back in mid-April. MERC ruled that the matter must first go into mediation.

This means that a state mediator, in this instance Thomas Badoud of MERC, will attempt at a negotiation to reconcile the parties without binding authority.

That a mediation attempt is not likely to be successful is implied of course in the parties' agreement to go to arbitration back in January.

"I just look forward to the arbitration," said Teamster negotiator Gregory, "where we anticipate that we will get the same increase we're entitled to."

Dick James, Township attorney and chief negotiator, said the Township is "always hopeful" about the upcoming mediation attempt.

"Whether or not we will be able to reach agreement is conjecture at this point," he added.

The negotiations concern a police force of six salaried full-time officers, and 13 hourly part-time officers.

The top salary for a full-time officer with two years of service is (See CONTRACT page 3)

It's Andrews' move

Codification controversy continues

City officials were expected to receive a letter this week from attorney Louis C. Andrews, the attorney whose firm is charged with codifying Romulus' ordinances and laws.

Andrews' work on codification was recently shelved when City Council approved a motion offered by councilman Peter Bergeron that Andrews has gone far beyond the intent the city planned.

Andrews had come under criticism by councilmen Jimmie Raspberry and John Lewkowicz for what they said was "inserting ordinances not passed by the council or the referendum."

Andrews had been invited to meet with council but he declined, stating in his letter that "first, meeting with the Council more than one time is not contemplated in the price quoted the city for preparation of the code."

"Additional meetings would be charged for at an hourly rate of $90. If the council wishes to engage my services for this extra work at this rate, I will arrange to meet with them."

"Secondly, you indicated that the council's concern is that ordinance material is contained in the draft of the Code which is not presently in any City Ordinance. This is correct. In a number of instances revisions or additions were needed, either in my opinion or at the request of the former City Attorney."

Andrews concluded by stating that "to accomplish such revisions material from other City Codes was inserted as suggestions for their accomplishment and please note that the codification contract specifies that any material included in the first draft may be deleted from the final code at the city's option, Andrews wrote."

Council recommended that the city attorney, Stephen J. Hitchcock, and City Clerk, Raymond Cantrell, continue the work and complete the codification process.

Andrews has already been paid $3,000 of the $6,500 the city has (See ORDINANCES page 3)

Carnival of fun

Festival continues in Romulus

There's a lot more fun and excitement left in the Romulus Festival.

Launched last week, the festival will reach its climax during the next four days as the carnival, casino and athletic events and programs highlight the week's festivities.

The Romulus Central Business District Association, in conjunction with the city and Michigan Week, are sponsoring a carnival which is located behind the Parks and Recreation Building, corner of Bibbins and Shook.

Sponsored by Van Buren

DNR to hold safety vehicle class

If you have any problems or questions about dune buggies, dirt bikes and road vehicles, steer for the Van Buren Parks and Recreation Department.

In conjunction with the Department of Natural Resources, Van Buren is hosting a seminar dealing with these particular motor vehicles.

The class will be held at Van Buren Township Hall, 46425 Tyler Road, Belleville, on Saturday, May 21, 8 a.m. - 4:30 p.m. Registration begins at 7:30 a.m. There will be a lunch break. Participants should bring lunch.

Larry Compton, DNR representative, is the instructor. Cost is only $2 per person. Also featured will be sessions in CPR and safety course sponsored by the police and fire departments.

"Don't miss this very important and informative instructional course if you own or are interested in purchasing an off-the-road vehicle," urge township officials. All such vehicles have to be registered with the state.

Also featured are the W.G. Wade Shows, a casino tent sponsored by St. Aloysius Catholic Church, a bingo tent organized by South Little League, and an adult refreshment tent sponsored by the Romulus Chamber of Commerce and the Romulus Central Business Association.

There are also live entertainment and prizes awarded nightly.

Proceeds of the event will be donated to community projects.

For further information, telephone the Recreation Department at Van Buren Township Hall, 699-2001.

2 injured in 3-car accident

A 17-year-old Ypsilanti girl was treated for injuries she sustained last week in a three-car accident in Sumpter Township.

Malone was released from St. Joseph's Hospital in Ann Arbor after receiving treatment for lacerations of the body and neck injuries.

Miss Malone was driving a car on east-bound Bemis about 2:30 p.m. when she plowed the vehicle into a car, which struck a third vehicle, waiting for a traffic signal, according to Sumpter police.

A passenger in Miss

Malone's car, Kathy Webb, of Sumpter Township, also was slightly shaken by the accident.

"Miss Malone was cited for the accident," said Cpl. Wanda Elden, of the Sumpter Police Department.

"There were two vehicles at the intersection of Bemis and Sumpter waiting for the 3-way overhead light to change when the Malone car struck the second vehicle, sending it into the other."

Annual Percentage Rate

Last year, Ford Motor Company achieved the highest quality rating of any major American car or truck maker.*

Simple logic leads to the conclusion that the best way to measure the quality of anybody's 9.9% annual percentage rate program is to measure the quality of their cars and trucks.

Get 9.9% financing on new Ford small cars.

That includes popular Escort and sporty two-seat EXP. Superior technology and ride quality have made these among America's favorite small cars.

Get 9.9% financing on tough Ford Ranger.

When you purchase any new Ranger except 4x2 gas engine models built before December 1, 1982, you get the 9.9% annual percentage rate.

And that's just the beginning. As an incentive to buyers who want and need larger cars and trucks, Ford is sponsoring special annual percentage rates that can save you hundreds of dollars over the period you finance your purchase.

If you finance for 12 to 36 months, you'll get an 11.9% annual percentage rate on any new LTD and Mustang.

If you finance for 48 months, you'll get an annual percentage rate of 12.9%.*

Great deals for truck buyers, too.

The same annual percentage rates of 11.9% for 12 to 36 month contracts and 12.9% for 48 month contracts apply to new light conventional trucks (excluding 6.9 diesels), to new 4x2 gas engine Rangers built before December 1, 1982, and to new Broncos and the all-new Bronco II.

The cash alternative.

If you're a cash buyer, you will receive a check for $300 direct from Ford when you purchase any new Escort, Mustang or EXP.

Some fine print.

You must order your new Ford vehicle from a participating dealer before April 30, 1983. Or take delivery of a new car or truck from stock by May 31, 1983. There is a limit of one per qualified retail buyer and dealer contribution may affect customer savings. See your authorized dealer for details.

*Based on a comparison of three major U.S. auto makers by an independent research firm of 11,000 new car and light truck owners. Study was based on things gone wrong three months after purchase on 1982 model cars and trucks. Example of a typical contract with a total cash price of $10,000 with a $2,000 down payment. Your monthly payment would be $265.53 for 36 months at 11.9% A.P.R. or $214.22 for 48 months at 12.9% A.P.R.

There's one word that makes our annual percentage rate different from everybody else's:

Quality.

Approval of projects for $84,653 received from the Federal Emergency Jobs Bill topped the Huron Township Board agenda last week.

The board voted 6-0 to spend $70,000 of the money to replace waterlines in New Boston, either on Evans or Ellis streets.

The remaining $14,643 will be used to insulate and renovate township firehalls.

The $84,653 figure is $23,659 more than the amount announced two weeks ago — $23,659 more than the amount announced two weeks ago — $60,994. The Township was notified May 3 that money from a $582,000 fund would not be used for Wayne County initiatives, resulting in the additional money for various townships.

Following the vote, Deputy Supervisor John Chihan asked the board to authorize administration officials to set up procedures for obtaining professional services for the projects.

Chihan said that engineering and architectural services will be needed.

The actual dollars will not be made available to the township until about Aug. 1.

"We would like this work done before the bad weather sets in," Chihan said. "I am hoping to advertise in the papers for professional services as soon as possible."

A public hearing was held prior to the board meeting to hear suggestions for possible use of the funds.

Bill Nagy, Chairman of the Recreation Commission, was the only person in attendance. His proposals were similar to those of the board published in the paper although some money was asked for work on Lajko Park Development. This was not granted.

In other matters, Supervisor A.J. Haener requested and received authorization from the board to set up a Police Oral Review Board to interview part-time officers for a full-time vacancy on the police force.

The board will consist of a Lieutenant from the State Police, and two police chiefs from surrounding communities.

Haener said that his two sergeants, David Addison and John Maier, have provided a list of possible interviewees, of which the administration has determined four.

In other business, the board briefly discussed and then tabled the matter of a bond needed for construction of a multiple-diamond softball facility at Sibley and Vining.

Downriver Softball Inc. proposes to build eight diamonds on the 40-acre site. The organization has already been before the planning commission and the zoning board of appeals to get clearance to construct.

However, only preliminary plans have been submitted to the township. The board tabled the bond matter until the next meeting for lack of information.

On another item, Supervisor Haener discussed in his regular report the matter of the Flea Market operating at Pennsylvania and Huron River Drive.

Two residents were in attendance to complain against, among other things, merchants who bring in their overnight campers to spend the weekend on the approximately 5-acre lot, located on the corner.

However, it was noted by the township attorney, Richard James, that there is now an injunction against the township to desist from doing anything, so the discussion was tabled.

The board did vote to authorize the administration to inform itself in order to possibly resolve the matter.

In other business, the board voted unanimously to allow the Township Clerk, Mary Lou Carey, to form a task force to research residents' feelings regarding cable TV in Huron Township and establish a suitable ordinance.

The vote followed the regular report of the Clerk who had just attended two seminars in Lansing and Southfield.

Carey said that a cable TV system could be installed in Huron Township within a minimum of three years following passage of an ordinance.

"I have to say that this is the most exciting, most progressive thing to happen in our community," she said later.

"We started talking about cable TV in 1979 but no serious attempt was made to have it installed.

"We are now in the position of profiting from the mistakes of the other communities. That is one of the things we got out of those seminars.

"This is one time that being a little bit slower to jump is probably going to be beneficial," she added.

Regarding another of the Clerk's proposals, the board voted unanimously to adopt a resolution in support of House Bill 4322 to abolish the presidential preferential primary which takes place in Michigan each presidential election year.

The resolution attacks the primary as "nothing more than a costly beauty contest," with no binding results as far as delegate votes.

Some 40 legislators have cosponsored the bill and there is now some hope of success, Carey said.

Earlier in the meeting, Supervisor Haener announced that three used police vehicles, among them a 1979 Chevrolet Impala 4-door and a 1980 Chevrolet Malibu 4-door, will be put on sale.

Item: In the May 4 edition, the report on the Township Board meeting erroneously stated that a 6.8 mill levy would be on the July tax rolls in partial payment of the Angelo Moreno settlement. In fact, the levy will be .68 mills.

Switch in codification

budgeted for the codification.

Cantrell pointed out that Andrews' contract did stipulate that he had the authority to update ordinances, "however, where I feel he overstepped his jurisdiction was that he arbitrarily inserted all these corrections or strengthening portions of other ordinances without prior consent of the city council, or clerk or city attorney.

"If he had inserted the material into some sort of booklet and suggested that these recommendations would be used only if approved by council, then I don't believe there would have been this much controversy."

Cantrell said that the city attorney will be able to complete the balance of the codification work with the help of computers.

"I believe that codification (of the city's ordinances) is very important to the city because it will provide us in one volume a list of all of the city's laws and ordinances and the ordinances will be indexed according to their uses, making them readily accessible," Cantrell said.

$20,598. A new patrolman starts at $15,833.

The part-time officers make $6.42 an hour.

"Hopefully, they'll offer us something," said John Cady, a Huron police officer and member of the union negotiating team.

"We have to go to the same stores as the people in the area, and a loaf of bread costs just as much," he added.

Township Treasurer Christin Gamber, a member of the Township negotiating team since the beginning, commented:

"In the past we have always walked away from the (negotiating) table shaking hands, and I hope we'll be able to do that this time."

The race was a huge success

Dear Residents:

The City of Romulus hosted an exciting event on Saturday, May 14. A 10,000 meter (6.2 miles) running race was held through the streets of Romulus and 158 runners competed in the event. The race was the official kick-off to the City's week-long celebration of Michigan Week.

Two months ago I was asked to help organize the race because of my long involvement in the sport of running. I was initially frightened by the complexity of the task, but it turned out to be one of my most rewarding experiences.

Approximately 30 volunteers were needed to make the Romulus race a safe and enjoyable event for the runners. People were needed for jobs like registering entrants, giving water to thirsty runners along the route, providing first aid and assisting in traffic control. At 7:30 a.m. on Saturday morning, over 50 Romulus residents had volunteered to help, and the success of the event was guaranteed.

The name of the race was the Romulus Community Pride 10K Run. There could not have been a more appropriate title. The town was decked out in colorful banners, the high school band was entertaining the many visitors, Romulus police and reserves were proudly providing traffic control, friendly neighbors were cheering on the runners, and local firms were providing gifts and refreshments at the finish line. Runners from all over southeastern Michigan came to Romulus for the event, and all left with a warm and friendly feeling for the city.

It is always difficult to single out certain individuals for recognition. To all of the volunteers who helped with the race on Saturday, I would like to offer a special thanks to two people who served as co-directors of the run: Joyce Palmer of the Chamber of Commerce and Dennis Davidson, director of City Recreation. Without their tireless efforts, and the help of their respective staffs, the Romulus race could not have succeeded. I would like to extend a final salute to the members of the Romulus Central Business District for their continuous support throughout the weeks of preparation.

In closing, it seems appropriate simply to thank the Romulus community. We held a Community Pride race, and we became the ultimate winners.

'No Parking'

Belleville police officers will begin ticketing motorists who park their vehicles on city streets Tuesday early morning, preventing the DPW sweepers to clean city streets.

The ban on parking is between the hours of 2 a.m. and 6 a.m. on Tuesdays only. Violators will be fined $10 if vehicles are parked in a "no parking" zone.

Symphonic band tops at state festival

Saturday, May 7th marked a big day for the 80 member Romulus Jr. High School Symphonic Band. The band received a First Division Rating at the State Band Festival held in Grosse Pointe at the Brownell Middle School. The First Division Rating at the State level marked the fourth consecutive "1" for the Symphonic Band and the eighth "1" in the last nine years for Romulus Jr. High Bands.

All the judges at this year's festival were college professors. This made for very high standards at the festival. In the prepared music section of the festival, the Symphonic Band received two "1" Ratings and one "2". In Sight Reading, the Band was accorded a "1" rating. Director Richard Kruse was particularly pleased with the "1" rating in Sight Reading. "It is really an accomplishment to earn that "1" in Sight Reading at the State Festival level."

At both the District and State Festivals, eight judges rated the junior high symphonic band this year. The final tally was seven "1's" and one "2". This is the second highest overall festival rating in the history of the Romulus schools. These students, their parents and the entire community of Romulus can be real proud of the accomplishments of the symphonic band this year.

The "1" rating also keeps Romulus Jr. High in the leadership position among the 264 Junior high schools in the metropolitan (Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties) Detroit area. Over the past seven years Romulus and South Lyon Jr. Highs have both recorded 7 First Division Ratings at the state festival. The next school has 5 "1's" and only 26 of the 264 schools have managed to garner a "1" over the seven year period.

Both Superintendent Dr. William Bedell and Principal Nick Tottis congratulated the band members for a job well done. Both also wished to thank the large group of parents who attended the festival for their encouragement and support.

New Home

The former Wayne County Sheriff's Road Patrol Offices on Henry Ruff Road have some new occupants this week, following the dedication of an out-Wayne County Circuit Court Annex and offices of the Friend of the Court there last Saturday. The two county agencies are sharing the space with the recently revived Sheriff's Road Patrol and criminal investigation unit.

Could be home this summer

Rogers' condition is improving

The community did its part — now LaSalle Rogers is doing his.

The 19-year-old Inkster resident, who recently underwent a heart transplant, is "improving and may even be home this summer if he continues to improve," according to University of Minnesota doctors.

"We are carefully monitoring him because there is always the possibility that his body will reject the new tissues," a spokesman at the hospital said. "But he has come out of this very well."

Rogers received a new heart and is considered to be the youngest person to survive the delicate transplant operation.

The young Inkster resident's plight aroused national attention as citizens rallied to raise approximately $100,000 for the operation.

Local, area and state organizations staged fundraisers.

Rogers apparently suffered from cardiomyopathy — the replacement of normal heart muscle with scar tissue — which left the organ so weak that pressure builds to an extremely high level when blood is pumped, according to doctors.

The high pressure forced blood to back up into Rogers' lungs, causing shortness of breath, the doctors added.

Rogers attended Inkster High School and was unemployed when the illness struck him. Doctors and nurses at Wayne County General Hospital, where the youth was hospitalized, led the campaign to raise the funds for the operation.

Battle for WCGH

Commissioners fight to keep county hospital open

By SUE McDONALD
ANP News Editor

It was a disappointing turnout for County Commissioner Kay Beard who began two days of public hearings last Tuesday to garner public input on the proposed ordinance governing the operations of Wayne County General Hospital.

The ordinance, required by the new County Charter, covers the administration, operation and maintenance of the hospital, which is located in Westland.

The facility, which provides medical care for the county's indigent, has been at the center of controversy, since earlier this year when County Executive William Lucas recommended its closing to eliminate an $11 million chunk of the county deficit.

However, in figures supplied by Beard's committee, indications are that the closing of the hospital would, in fact, cost the county more than to keep it open.

It is estimated that the closing would cost the county $9.2 million in unemployment compensation, $4.2 million in lump sum payoff of sick and vacation time accrued by employees and $3.5 million for the care and upkeep of the facility after it closes.

Dr. Ray Joseph, a physician at the hospital for 23 years, acknowledged criticism of the hospital because of its cost to the county and its inability to operate at full bed capacity, but pointed out that detractors should consider what is there.

"We have a hospital we can be proud of," he said. "It is a major component of the University of Michigan teaching systems, with most of its interns and residents having completed a substantial amount of their training there."

"There is a substantial amount of research done at the hospital at no cost to the county, and it has the only fully equipped emergency department around to handle a major disaster."

"It is a hospital of last resort. We turn nobody away. If the county (hospital) didn't take care of them who would?"

Dr. Joseph also noted the need for the proposed ordinance to address the issue of why the hospital can't operate efficiently and economically as the one down the street.

"We've never been run as a business, but rather as an arm of government," he explained. "We have to have the autonomy of business to operate."

"Right now to order a piece of equipment, like a couple of stethoscopes, we have to put in a request to have included in next year's budget that won't be approved until December."

Dorothy Mullinix, a six-year employee of the hospital who has worked as an attendant, housekeeper and in records, told the committee that "lives are more important than money."

"This hospital deserves a chance...period," she added. "It should be in the charter, under its own powers."

"And $20,000 a year isn't that much money to make at a trauma hospital that's understaffed," she added in reference to criticism of employee salaries.

Fr. Terrence Treppa, pastor of St. Norbert's Church in Inkster urged the committee to carefully consider the issue of closing the hospital, citing a decision in St. Louis, Missouri, in which a hospital which serviced the poor and indigent was closed and a new hospital erected a few years later to "handle the poor that had been put out on the street in the first place."

"Don't be foolhardy, because in reality you'll just have to open another," he said.

"It's my guess that the other hospitals won't take up the slack. The City of Westland can't take it on; the private sector won't buy it; you don't want to bump it up to the state."

"It's a county hospital meeting the county needs."

Under the proposed ordinance the hospital would be governed by the County Board of Institutions, a five-member panel appointed by a majority vote of the Board of Commissioners.

The board would have the power "to make and establish management policies relating to the operation, maintenance and administration" of the hospital facilities.

Westland Mayor Charles Pickering questioned Beard about the board, pointing out that its membership should be non-elective "with citizen involvement or those with expertise in hospital management."

He also urged the inclusion of wording dealing with the removal of board members for cause.

Hearings on the ordinance were also held in Ecorse on Tuesday and in Detroit on Wednesday prior to consideration by the Board of Commissioners.

Even if the ordinance is included in the County Charter, it is no guarantee that the Westland facility will not be closed. According to Beard, the ordinance is only in response to a Charter mandate.

FOOD FOR THOUGHT

By John Brimble

Some people plant nasturtiums especially to garnish salad. The flowers ARE edible — and so beautiful on a platter!

Peach melba is easy if you've got raspberry jam and Grand Marnier on hand. Mix 1/2 cup of jam with 2 lbs. liqueur and pour on peaches (fresh or canned) and ice cream.

Scrambled eggs are more than breakfast if you stir in shredded Cheddar cheese just as the eggs are setting.

New technique for beating egg whites utilizes — yes! — the food processor. Secret trick: 1 tbs. of water or white vinegar to stabilize the whites, added after the first 8 seconds. Then beat 2 to 2 1/2 minutes.

Elliott (Garden City), Tami Harkai (Belleville), Catherine K. Baldrice (Canton), Jacqueline F. Poindexter (Westland), Marlene Carpenter (Romulus), Cheyl Simpson (New Boston) and David V.J. Powierski (Garden City); in the third row are Brian Petrucci (Garden City) and James P. Holbrook (Romulus).

Area job survey scheduled

Local representatives of the Bureau of the Census will conduct a survey of employment in this area during the work week of May 16-21, 1983, Robert G. McWilliam, Director of the Bureau's Regional Office in Detroit, announced.

In addition to the usual questions on current employment, the May survey will include others concerning pension and retirement plan coverage. The survey is conducted for the U.S. Department of Labor in a scientifically designed sample of approximately 71,000 households throughout the United States. Employment and unemployment statistics based on results of this survey are used to provide a continuing measure of the economic health of the nation.

For example, in March 1983 the survey indicated that of the 110.5 million men and women in the civilian labor force, 99.1 million were employed. The nation's unemployment rate was 10.3 percent, 0.1 percent lower than reported in February.

Information supplied by individuals participating in the survey is kept confidential.

Sumpter adopts 'get tough' policy with those who don't pay their taxes

By EVE SILBERMAN
(ANP Special Writer)

Sumpter Township may adopt a "get tough" policy with businesses who don't pay their personal property taxes.

At the May 10 Township Board of Trustees meeting, the Board discussed different courses of action after Treasurer Clarence Hoffman distributed a list of 36 businesses which he said were delinquent in their personal property taxes. The list covered the period from 1978 to 1982.

Amounts owed ranged from $26.24 to $8,940.55. The total amount of taxes owed came to $47,751. The majority of businesses are in Belleville, though Hoffman acknowledged that some of them have closed.

"The way it stands now, some people are paying these taxes and some aren't," said Hoffman. "I just want to know how far to go on this."

Possible actions discussed by the board included padlocking the businesses in question, tightening licensing requirements, or simply sending out more warning letters. Hoffman said he has sent letters to all the businesses on the list.

In the end, the Board turned the matter over to Township Attorney Eugene Turnbull and asked him to report on various alternatives at the next meeting.

Personal property taxes, which are separate from regular property taxes, include tax on items and equipment inside a business (for example, coolers).

Election Commission must clear petition language

The Department of State Elections is reminding all circulators of recall petitions that a new Michigan law requires petition language by submitted to County Election Commissioners before actual petitions are circulated.

The new provision, signed into law Dec. 30, 1982, requires County Election Commissioners to review recall language for clarity so petition signers understand what they are signing. According to State Elections Director Christopher Thomas, only clarity of language — not reasons for recall — are subject to review by the Commissioners.

County Elections

Commissioners must review petition language within 20 days of submission or such language is automatically approved.

SUMPTER PUBLIC HEARING MINUTES

MINUTES OF A PUBLIC HEARING OF THE SUMPTER TOWNSHIP BOARD
HELD ON MAY 5, 1983

Public Hearing opened by Supervisor Reeves with the pledge of allegiance to the flag at 5:00 P.M. Roll Call Showing:

Present: Supervisor Reeves, Clerk Banotai, Treasurer Hoffman and Trustees: Humphreys and Huziak.

Absent: Morgan and Bevins
Excused: Morgan and Bevins

Also present: Engineer Wilhelmi, Consultant Wargelin, Deputy Clerk Sienko and three citizens.

Motion by Banotai, supported by Humphreys to approve agenda. Motion carried unanimously.

Agenda

1. Pledge
2. Roll Call
3. Approval of Agenda
4. Discussion of the Emergency Jobs Legislation Bill monies
5. Adjournment

Supervisor Reeves opened the discussion with the announcement that Sumpter Township, allocation for the 1983 supplemental appropriation has been increased from $112,959 to $156,774.

The program is to assist the unemployed and needy. There will be no monies allocated for Planning or Administration costs.

Supervisor asked for suggestions as to what the Board would like to see the monies used for.

Banotai suggested some of the monies could be used to build a men's and ladies' restroom at Sumpter Park No. 1. Supervisor stated that Park Improvements are eligible. Huziak suggested that the Old Pavilion at Sumpter Park is in need of repair. Hoffman asked about the drainage ditches. Supervisor advised they are number one priority. Banotai also asked about the renovation of the old township hall for a Community Building. Supervisor advised that Community Facilities Improvement are also eligible.

It was suggested by the Engineer that instead of contracting the work out, a crew be made up of Township residents and let the unemployed do the work. The Township would purchase the equipment and hire the people as temporary employees of the Township with the Township making out the paychecks. That way the money would go to township residents and we would get more work for the money involved. All employees would be covered under workman's comp. Equipment can be purchased out of this monies.

Hoffman asked about the age of the applicants. They must have worked and become unemployed for the last 15 out of 26 weeks to be eligible.

Reeves stated that he and the Engineer have a meeting with the County and will receive more guidelines.

Supervisor asked if there were any questions from the floor. None were forthcoming, therefore, he asked for a motion to adjourn.

Motion by Huziak, supported by Humphreys, to adjourn. Public Hearing adjourned at 5:22 P.M.

Respectfully submitted,

Louis P. Banotai, Clerk

What's in a name? Plenty

At the turn of the century a popular song was "My Name is Morgan (But It Ain't J.P.)." The song went on to tell about a young girl who mistakenly thought her boyfriend was one of the world's richest men.

Eighty years later and in the computer age, the Veterans Administration occasionally has problems with names, too.

The Morgans aren't big problems, but others are. VA computers have the names of over 304,000 Smiths, 202,000 Johnsons, 149,000 Williamses and 144,000 Jones. The agency even lists 50

Ronald Reagans and over 100 Harry Walters (he's the new VA Administrator).

These names become a problem when one of these ex-GIs write to the VA and doesn't include the all-important military serial number, social security number or VA claim number.

It isn't necessarily impossible to locate a veteran's file without these numbers, but with over 34 million names of former servicemen and women in VA files, including the number will simplify things and expedite an answer for the veteran.

our opinions

Mrs. Miller served her community well

Monday night was the last time Betty Miller would attend an Inkster City Council meeting in her official capacity as City Clerk.

After 17 years of serving the city as clerk, Mrs. Miller has decided to retire. She made the announcement of her retirement last month and set aside May 31 as her final day on the job. That day will climax for her more than a quarter of a century of serving the public and city government.

during the most taxing and trying times.

A resident of Inkster since 1947, she joined the City Hall staff in 1957 as an assistant or deputy clerk. In May of 1966, Mrs. Miller was appointed by council to serve as City Clerk.

Most observers of City Hall were caught by surprise by Mrs. Miller's resignation. It probably was the most controversial letter she has written during her tenure. It left many speechless and two councilmen refused to accept it, in respect to the job she has done.

Some now are flaming the rumor spread recently that Mrs. Miller may run for the city's highest elected post, that of mayor. However, she quickly dispelled that motion: "No," she replied to the question of a future political office, "I just want to relax and enjoy my family."

"For me, 1983 is a crossroad in my life and I've decided to take another kind of road for now," she said.

Crowded with respect and admiration, Mrs. Miller wanted to leave the City Hall scene without the hoopla shown to those who have served well.

It would be just like her. She did her job and did it well. And when Mrs. Miller leaves her office at the end of the month, there will be a huge void to fill.

'Poppy', a symbol of hope and freedom

Most of us have personal reminiscences of the "poppy" that will be in the hands of American Legion Auxiliary members and volunteers who will be selling them on the main intersections in the townships and cities in the area, across the state and the nation on Thursday.

May 19 is "Poppy Day".

And the "memorial poppy", as they are now called, unfortunately tells of soldiers in battles, won and lost, and wars near and far. It is a memorial to those "who gave their last full measure of devotion;" it is a memorial to the men and women who wore uniforms and went off to strange and foreign lands — millions of whom didn't return.

Although the "war to end all wars" and that "day that will live in infamy" remains fresh in so many minds, mankind must never forget that appeasement and weakness invites dictators and totalitarianism.

Has there ever been a time during the troubled history of mankind that there truly was peace on earth?

That symbolic poppy provides us, ironically, with its symbol, a reminder that in order to live as free men, some must be ready to pay the price.

To those who have fought the battles and returned and for those who were left on the battlefields, there is still somehow we can tell them we remember. The contributions and proceeds from the sales of the memorial poppy are used to help veterans and their families in their communities.

The contributions, no matter how small, shows that you care. On May 19, you may be asked to purchase a poppy. Is there a better way to thank those who uncompromisingly took up arms to protect your liberty and freedom?

Your small donation means a lot to a lot of people.

School board literature is piece of propaganda

School board election time is apparently approaching once again.

I find it very strange, but not surprising, that the first piece of literature I received, (distributed on school property), is very much like letters in other elections, just the names are changed. The amazing thing is this letter apparently was put out by the President of the Wayne-Westland School Board and a minister. This does surprise me.

Mr. Jim LeDuc states in his letter, "those with selfish political aspirations and blatantly self-serving attitudes may gain control of the board."

Let's take a look at that statement. "Selfish Political Aspirations" — Who can have a more selfish gain than the people who receive paychecks from the district?

These are the people who have supported the candidates, in Mr. LeDuc's letter including, Mr. LeDuc in the past. Wouldn't it be nice to choose the people who are going to vote on how much you will be paid? "Self Serving Attitudes" Anyone who was at the board meeting the other night heard one of the board members make her statement, about her school, knows who is self serving. This is not the only time this board member has made comments such as, I got what I wanted. She also was supported by this same group of people.

Let's look back to the recall.

As chairperson of the recall I have a file case full of letters such as these. The school district was going to destruct, several months later it still stands. Senior Citizen, Handicap and Sports programs were going to end, they continue on. Just because we disagreed with the administrations' hand picked people we were BAD BAD BAD, trying to destroy our children's education, that we are all out working so hard to pay for. (Doesn't that seem a little strange?) There is a name for these tactics used on the voters (Parents, Citizens, Seniors etc.) it is called sending people on a guilt trip or instill fear.

This is done by threatening the voters that programs will be cut or tell them their children will get less. That way they won't get anymore people on the board who might vote the feelings of the taxpayer.

Granted employees pay taxes too, would you mind your taxes going up if you knew that the people you voted in would be voting on your contracts and knowing what you were paying in taxes was coming back to you in your paycheck?

You work most of your life to raise and educate your children. You want and need someone on the school board who will stand up for the rights of the people!!

Let's look at the school board meetings. You really should attend, you are paying for these entertaining evenings. One board member who is up for re-election even asks the person next to her how he voted, then she votes opposite. The board president refers to the people as the theater. I've got to say, if he feels they are actors (Marionettes, in my opinion would be a better word) they are not performing as well as the taxpayers deserve for the price they are paying.

The voting string, seems to be stuck. (We who attend board meetings know who pulls the strings, if you are Marionettes?) These four have also been referred to as "Rubber Stamps," or are they puppets or Marionettes? Are they the people who are out for "Selfish Political Aspirations" and do they have "Blatantly Self Serving Attitudes"?

Just what would be so bad to have another board member who would vote the way of the people, supported by the people? Why is there such a fear, that the people might gain the voice and "control" of the board? Who really should control the board? What is being hidden, that only hand picked people who will vote only for the administration must get in?

If you go to the board meeting and listen and were going to place a bet, we could give you a sure winner on how these people will vote.

I would never pick a candidate who was against Senior Citizens, my Mom is one and I will be one someday also. Nor would I pick one against sports, I have children on teams. Nor one against the Handicapped as I have a handicapped child, and God knows I wouldn't pick one who was going to have blatantly self serving attitudes etc. (If you don't know what BLANTLY means Webster defines it as; noisy esp. in a vulgar or offensive pole, clamorous, obtrusive...) Nor would I choose one who would destroy my child's education.

That's why I look hard at who I choose to support.

In the past the administrations candidates, I feel are to free in giving out contracts we cannot afford. That was proven during and after the recall. After the glorious contract was given out, that caused the recall, they have had to come back and take away part of it, not only from the teachers, but other employees also.

How many more times will they come back? Will they hit us for more taxes or another bond issue to get the money for it? Or will they just keep borrowing money and time? (They have already borrowed millions to get us through this year) What happens when time and money and loans run out? I'm shocked that more employees have not realized they are not being led down the Primrose path but the Yellow Brick Road!! What happens when they get to the end? Do they really think the Wizzard of Oz will pay their salaries? Or have they been told that the people love to have their taxes increased to pay for these contracts? (If you heard Dr. Tim Dyer's elaborate address "What price labor peace", you would have an idea of his feelings of paying out almost anything to keep labor peace.)

Just how much are you willing to take? It's time to wake up. Summer is coming it's too hot to have the wool pulled over your eyes again. It's time again for your voice to be heard. Vote for candidates who are for all ages of people, that's the key word, they are for the people.

Remember if you don't get out and vote you don't have the right to complain later.

A Viet Nam story

Tom Mooradian
Managing Editor

Strange how some stories fall into place.

Like this one.

It first appeared as a request for our chief photographer to be at a park dedication. Then, a junior high student's name popped up and a Viet Nam hero who didn't make it home. A fire that destroyed a house added to the intrigue.

And with the help of Christine Gamber, Huron Township's treasurer and Bob Costigan, a member of that township's Recreation Commission, the pieces began to fall into place.

We don't know what came first but it appears that the recreation department needed a name of a park, so they decided to let the school kids find that name.

"We held a contest and the students came up with a lot of good suggestions," Costigan said. "But the one submitted by a sixth grader at Renton Junior High captured our thoughts and sentiments."

The young student at Renton, Paul Novicki, offered the name of Pvt. First Class Paul D. Lajko.

The park would be named for Pvt. Lajko.

A home grown product, Lajko grew up in the township and graduated in 1964 from New Boston Huron High School. During those apolypytic years of the Viet Nam War, Robert didn't dream that he would be drawn into the bloody conflict.

He was.

Although we don't have all of the particulars available to us now, we know that Pvt. First Class Lajko did wind up in the First Calvary shortly after entering the Armed Services in 1965. He also went to Viet Nam where he was awarded the Silver Star, the Bronze Star and the Purple Heart.

Lajko, like thousands of other Americans, didn't return from Viet Nam. He died there.

Ironically, shortly after his death, most of his personal belongings and his medals were wiped out at his parents' home which was destroyed by fire.

"There is a drive on to restore these medals to Lajko's parents," noted Costigan. "But, we don't know how or when this will be done."

On June 5, 1983 at 1:30 p.m. there will be a dedication ceremony at the 5-acre park which is located in the West Road and Huron River Drive area, only a short walk from where the Lajkos reside. Local, state officials and dignitaries from Washington are expected to be here for the memorial dedication.

"There are plans for a multi-purpose court in that park," said Mrs. Gamber, "and the recreation commission is also planning to construct a shelter, woodchip track and build additional softball diamonds."

"We believe it will become one of the finer parks in the township," Mrs. Gamber added.

There are a lot of people who are working hard to make this a success. On that list are present members of the recreation commission: Bill Nagy, chairman, Cookie Kowalski, Ron Tabor, Andy Tyre, Pat Glasgow, Mrs. Gamber, and Costigan along with past rec. commissioners Dave Patterson, Dan Summitt, Bill Santana and Doris LaBeau.

The park is a fitting tribute to a soldier whose memory is dear to many.

And, as one mortally-wounded soldier said to his buddy, "As long as you remember me and my name is spoken I will never die. I will live forever."

Hawrylak story
stirs protest

EDITOR — The Hawrylak article, published in The Associated Newspapers' Wayne Eagle recently causes me great concern. It's most interesting to note that Westland Mayor Charles Pickering will consider the hiring of two persons to fill Mr. Hawrylak's position which is vacant.

The Mayor must be reminded that:

1 — The City of Westland is in dire financial straits. At this point in time to even suggest his administrative staff be increased, creating additional budgetary burdens, is a lack of understanding of the city's financial crisis. The mayor must remember his comments of late 1981. Upon taking office, Pickering stated he did not need an administrative assistant — he and his secretary could effectively manage the mayor's duties and responsibilities. Two months later, Mr. Hawrylak was hired and subsequently Mayor Pickering requested an additional full-time secretary. The inconsistency is appalling. The mayor's request for funds for his office staff far exceed those of any of the previous administrations.

2 — In January 1983, Pickering placed Ralph Tack, Director of Parks and Recreation, on an indefinite lay-off, citing budgetary problems as his justification for this unprofessional, unwarranted decision. The mayor stated he would assume the director's responsibilities and also said Mr. Tack would possibly return to work in July, 1983. On several occasions the Mayor stated Mr. Tack was a "dedicated employee of the City, and a professional in parks and recreation".

As a result of a lack of leadership, the Parks and Recreation programs are beginning to crumble. Pickering states Mr. Tack will not return as Parks and Recreation Director, even though he has requested funding for the Director's position in his 1983-84 budget.

To unjustifiably dismiss a highly qualified, extremely competent, effective Director is a definite abuse of the citizens of Westland who have benefitted from Mr. Tack's expertise.

And what's most disgusting is the unmentioned fact that Mr. Tack's undeserved dismissal is the Mayor's desire to exercise his political power and feed his political ego. This concern is shared by a broad-based spectrum of the community.

In an article entitled "Some Editorial Type Thoughts" written by MKD in the April, 1983, edition of the Westland Citizen's Chronicle, a publication which, in most instances, supports the Mayor it is stated, "I feel Mayor Pickering made, and is making, unwise political decisions regarding the Ralph Tack layoff. The Department of Parks and Recreation is highly visible, and efficient due to the large number of volunteers (unpaid) involved with it.

A lay-off there affects a lot of people, especially a lay-off of the person who is in charge of it all.

Ralph Tack should not have been pink slipped. Mr. Tack is within his rights to try to get any, or all, of his employee benefits, and he has now filed a lawsuit to obtain them. The mayor could save the city money by rehiring him. It is not a discredit to the mayor's authority or to his office for him to admit a mistake. If the real reason for the layoff was to get rid of Tack, then Pickering should have said so, and not tried to make it seem otherwise. Whether or not these decisions are good for the city remains to be seen.

Since the Mayor intends to request additional personnel and since the taxpayers are footing the entire bill for Mr. Tack's unemployment benefits, it's time to reinstate Tack's employment with the City of Westland. In view of Mr. Tack's dedication and competence, it would be to the city's financial advantage and a benefit to the entire community to place Mr. Tack in one of the Mayor's proposed positions.

Will the last person leaving City Hall please turn off the lights?

Why transfer
EMI students?

EDITOR — I am writing as an upset and irate parent. Today I was informed that our students in Emotionally and Mentally Impaired classes at Wayne Memorial High will transfer to Westland John Glenn in the fall.

Is this a necessary move? Is it economical? Does it have the best interest of the children at heart?

First as a taxpayer, I would have to object because of the increased bussing costs, the loss employee morale and the loss of six school weeks due to readjustment period for students and teaching staff.

I understand 25 students will be transferred for the sake of 15 students already at John Glenn, to a room with lesser facilities.

Secondly, as a parent, I have an equal partnership with educators in the education of my children. Why weren't parents consulted before such a decision was reached?

You must have an idea of the constant adjusting involved in being moved from school to school. Wayne Memorial has been a dream for these kids, to have lasting school spirit, to establish life long friends and stability in their lives.

At Wayne, programs have been set-up, in regular classrooms to give these students working skills and also those to live in this world of ours. As a result, they will not be on our welfare rolls as adults or in unemployment lines or walking the streets.

Third, as a citizen of Westland, I don't wish to see this fine school system of ours downgraded at the cost of children's education. We chose this city because of it's high standard of quality education. We have always been progressive and the first in many areas of education: The Bucket Brigade, Teacher Consultants etc. Our students have always been individuals, not numbers, as this decision indicates.

I am proud of my children and their educational strides and fine characters. Please, consider all the students self-esteem, individual needs and emotional well-being, as you would your own.

It's a nice feeling to pick up a newspaper and see smiling faces. Thank you for publishing the photographs of our recent Tyler School Science and Social Studies Fair. The photographs are proudly displayed on our school bulletin board.

I'd like to also comment on the courtesy and friendliness of everyone with which I came in contact, specifically, Valerie Higgins, Lothar Konietzko and Diane Ferguson. Thank you for your continued support.

Of punishment
and crime

EDITOR — I have a few words for the writer who thinks our prisoners have constitutional rights and shouldn't be in over crowded prisons.

Well, as far as I'm concerned we didn't put them there. They put themselves there.

Instead of building more prisons, we could put them on islands where it would be nice and warm. Drop off food. They would have lots of room.

My husband and I were raised in the depression. My husband had less than I. He had no food to eat. Neither of us stole anything.

If they want anything today they steal it. I really don't care if they stand shoulder to shoulder and have no TV.

You probably think I'm not a caring person, I really am. But I am bitter and I have a good reason.

Have you ever had someone break into your home and steal things that meant very much to you and sell them for a few dollars?

Do you know how dirty your home feels after someone breaks in?

Do you know what it does to your nerves, especially when the creep can walk by your home and you know it was him.

If you were to beat him up he would have you put in jail.

Now you think I should feel sympathy for the prisoners, because they have constitutional rights.

I do to and mine have been violated. I don't see anyone worrying about me.

Forget those criminals. I want nothing good for them. I believe some of the judges should be locked up with them too.

to criticism

EDITOR — Local newspapers have recently carried news articles and Letters to the Editor regarding Girl Scout cookie sales and an unfortunate incident which occurred in a neighboring Girl Scout Council in Macomb County (Otsikita Council).

The Michigan Metro Girl Scout Council (Wayne and Southern Oakland Counties) wishes to reassure the community that, should a similar situation arise in this Council, we would not condone punishment of children for their performance in cookie sales.

Recently, our Board of Directors reaffirmed this principle and its support of Girl Scout national policy, which, as we interpret it, clearly indicates that a girl's membership in her troop depends only upon payment of registration dues and adherence to the Girl Scout Promise and Law, which make absolutely no reference to selling cookies.

Because of the dedication and competence of our 3,600 adult volunteers working on the cookie sale with 25,000 Girl Scouts and their parents, Michigan Metro Girl Scout Council is able to operate as a partially self-supporting organization. In addition, Girl Scout cookie sales provide the opportunity to teach girls many valuable things, among them: self-confidence, service to the troop and the Council, cooperation, setting and meeting of goals, handling success and failure, dealing with the public, managing money, and of course, responsibility.

Because the individual Girl Scout cookie order form is signed by the parent of the girl, we feel strongly that it is the parent who must be held accountable for making full payment for the order as promised. In any instance where a parent cannot pay, the Michigan Metro Girl Scout Council makes every effort to be accommodating in clearing up the matter with the adult.

Therefore, while we certainly strive to teach a girl the tremendous importance of being responsible, we do not believe that cancelling her membership in her troop is the way to teach it. Only with a girl's continued troop membership and eligibility for troop activities do we get our chance to help her learn such values and hopefully grow and benefit from all the good experiences Girl Scouting has to offer.

'Angel of Mercy'

EDITOR — I had occasion to read Sue Bachand's article, "Angel of Mercy" in the Associated Newspapers' Westland Eagle dated April 21.

On behalf of the staff of the Visiting Nurse Association of Metropolitan Detroit (VNA) I wish to express appreciation for the fine job you and your staff did in portraying home health care services provided by VNA in the Western Wayne area.

If I may ever be of any assistance in answering any health related questions or providing additional health care service related information for you or your staff, please do not hesitate to contact me.

Again thank you for your time and fine effort.

Which way
to excellence?

EDITOR — Mona Grigg's column, "Which Way to Excellence?" had well-chosen words about the plight of public education.

A sacrifice is being made for political reasons; the victims are children who are already at a disadvantage in our society.

Mrs. Grigg is right on target about the federal government abandoning public education while promoting private schools. Reagan is helping the rich get richer and keeping the poor in their place.

Only children whose parents can afford private schools will get the education which will enable them to be the leaders and decision-makers of tomorrow if those who appreciate the importance of a quality education for all become a silent minority.

More people with Grigg's point of view should stand up and be counted. This trend of dismissing public education as an unimportant and annoying part of the community must be turned around.

THEY CALL YOU AN EAGLE

*They call you an Eagle!
You have achieved what few attempt and even fewer can do.
In your pride you have the humility to know that without
The help and guidance of many, you would have not made it.
So they call you an Eagle!
They know that no matter how much help you had, without your Own perseverance, skills and the courage of your convictions
You would never have made it.
They call you an Eagle!
You have reached the heights that so few can.
Spread your wings, young Eagle... and soar.
In the few short years it took you, you have gone from being
A boy to being a fine young man.
They call you an Eagle and rightfully so, but I among all men
Am granted the privilege to say
"This Eagle is my son."*

reflections

From B-24 pilot's wife diary

He stood there in his flight suit, topped with his 'Buzz Buggy' flight jacket, and he was as straight and slim and young as he was thirty eight years ago when he finally laid them aside for civilian clothes.

"Everyone has to wear a flight suit to the bag party," my pilot son was telling me while his father admired his flat stomach in the mirror.

"I got you a big one, Mom — from a pretty hefty guy."

"I am not wearing a flight suit," I told him, but I didn't tell him that until after I had tried on the pretty hefty guy's suit, and while it went around me, it did a lot of straining, and the legs and the arms stretched away from me in all directions.

"Let's go," the kids yelled, and my husband took one last lingering look at himself and said, "How about that? Don't you wish you could fit in the same clothes you wore when we were first married."

"Humph," I answered and followed my son and his wife out to the car.

At the officer's club at K.I. Sawyer Air Force Base, the "Buzz Buggy" flight jacket made an instant hit. Young officers swarmed around, touching the jacket and listening to the war stories and other experiences that the old 'Buzz Buggy', a B-24 Bomber, and its pilot had gone through those many years ago in China.

And as I watched my husband join the young officers in singing rousing Air Force songs, I thought about how life does, indeed, go in circles, and nothing really is ever new except to the person experiencing it for the first time.

For sitting there I was taken back to another Air Force base, another time, similar songs, and similar stories, and that same atmosphere filled with excitement and tension and comradeship which seems to be a part of a flyer's psyche.

JOYCE HAGELTHORN

And I looked around at the young pregnant wives, so many of them, as if it were hurry-up time to bring other young men into this exciting life.

And I looked at my son, standing beside his father, the same tall, slender body, the same flight suits and the same wings, and I watched them grin at each other as they sang the Air Force songs and it seemed that yesterday was today and today was yesterday in my life.

MONA GRIGG

She made us care, even knowing we would lose her — and, on April 24, she wrote this: "Long ago, I promised that I would let you know when I came to the time of my dying. That time has come, and you and I need to begin the painful, yet necessary, process of learning to say goodbye..."

Jory lost the battle and died last Friday. She spent her final days with her closest friends, going over the obituary she wrote for herself; going over the funeral arrangements she had made; going over the music she wanted played.

She took charge of her own death, just as she had of her own life and left us with a legacy of courage and compassion, and, yes, even hope.

mona grigg

Jory Graham's 'last goodbye...'

When Jory Graham's column, "A Time for Living," first appeared in the Free Press (in 1978), I remember thinking, "What is this now? A dying person writing to and about other dying people. Ugh!"

I remember reading the first paragraph, in which Jory introduced herself as a person dying of cancer — and I remember quitting right there and going on to another page.

The following week, I glanced at her column again, more out of curiosity than anything, and went on to another page — again without reading Jory.

But every week there she was, smiling her relentless smile, finally forcing me into reading what she had to say.

She told me, when I finally gave in, not to be afraid (and, after all, I was afraid; afraid of meeting up with dying — and nobody knows that better than a dying person). She told me to look on a person whose death is imminent not as a person who is dying, but rather as a person living within a prescribed time limit.

She put the dying thing into its proper perspective by telling us that we are all, in fact, dying. There are some of us, however, who have the advantage of knowing when it is going to happen. She said it was an advantage because there is nothing so terrible as to die without having set your world right and without having said your goodbyes.

Jory Graham forced us into seeing that it is a blind kind of love that hides from the fact that a person we care about is dying. It is sheer cruelty, she said, to hush a person up when they want to talk about their dying. We are condemning them to the most agonizing kind of loneliness when we shy away from sharing their grief.

She told us how to get through the process of dying — and how to watch for needless agonies. She talked about the need for hospices; she warned us about the numbers of uncalled-for radical mastectomies performed on women each year; and about the proliferation of quack cancer cures both here and abroad.

She made light fun of doctors who would withhold certain "industrial strength" painkillers for fear of "making addicts of" dying patients.

She made us look deeply into our own prejudices about cancer patients (they are "unclean;" it might be "catching") and she reminded us that the maintenance of dignity and the quality of life are still rights due the dying.

But more than anything, Jory Graham made us care about Jory Graham. She made us put our money where our mouths were by giving in and caring about a person whose life was tenuous at best.

Stepping out in style

They primed and preened...dressed and re-dressed, were fitted and refitted, made up and rehearsed and when the music began, they strutted and swirled down the runway with all the aplomb of professional models. Backstage they worried about makeup and lighting, audience response and the proper fit of their garments. Skirts were tugged, shirts adjusted, cuffs pulled down, and each 'model' insured that they were a picture of perfection...and when the big moment came, each sauntered with all the assumed arrogance of the best runway mannequins.

More than 130 members of the Wayne Westland Community Schools Senior Adult Club viewed a wide array of spring fashions when they gathered at Dyer Center last week when members of the club modeled various suits, dresses and accessories furnished by Eva's Fashion and Lizzie's Clothing and Customs Tailors, both of Garden City.

After long hours of fittings and careful selection, Jane Woodrow, Marian Zuehlke, Angela Malino, Gladys Louwers, Shirley McKinley, Martha Dickson and Agnes Harter paraded their outfits with all the glamour of a New York showroom. The women were assisted by Marie Campeau and Dorothy Nickles who helped as dressers behind the scenes, coordinating the outfits and insuring the correct attire and accessories were worn by the assigned models.

Modeling men's fashions were Glenn Porter, Al White, Al Quantz and Chuck Guideau.

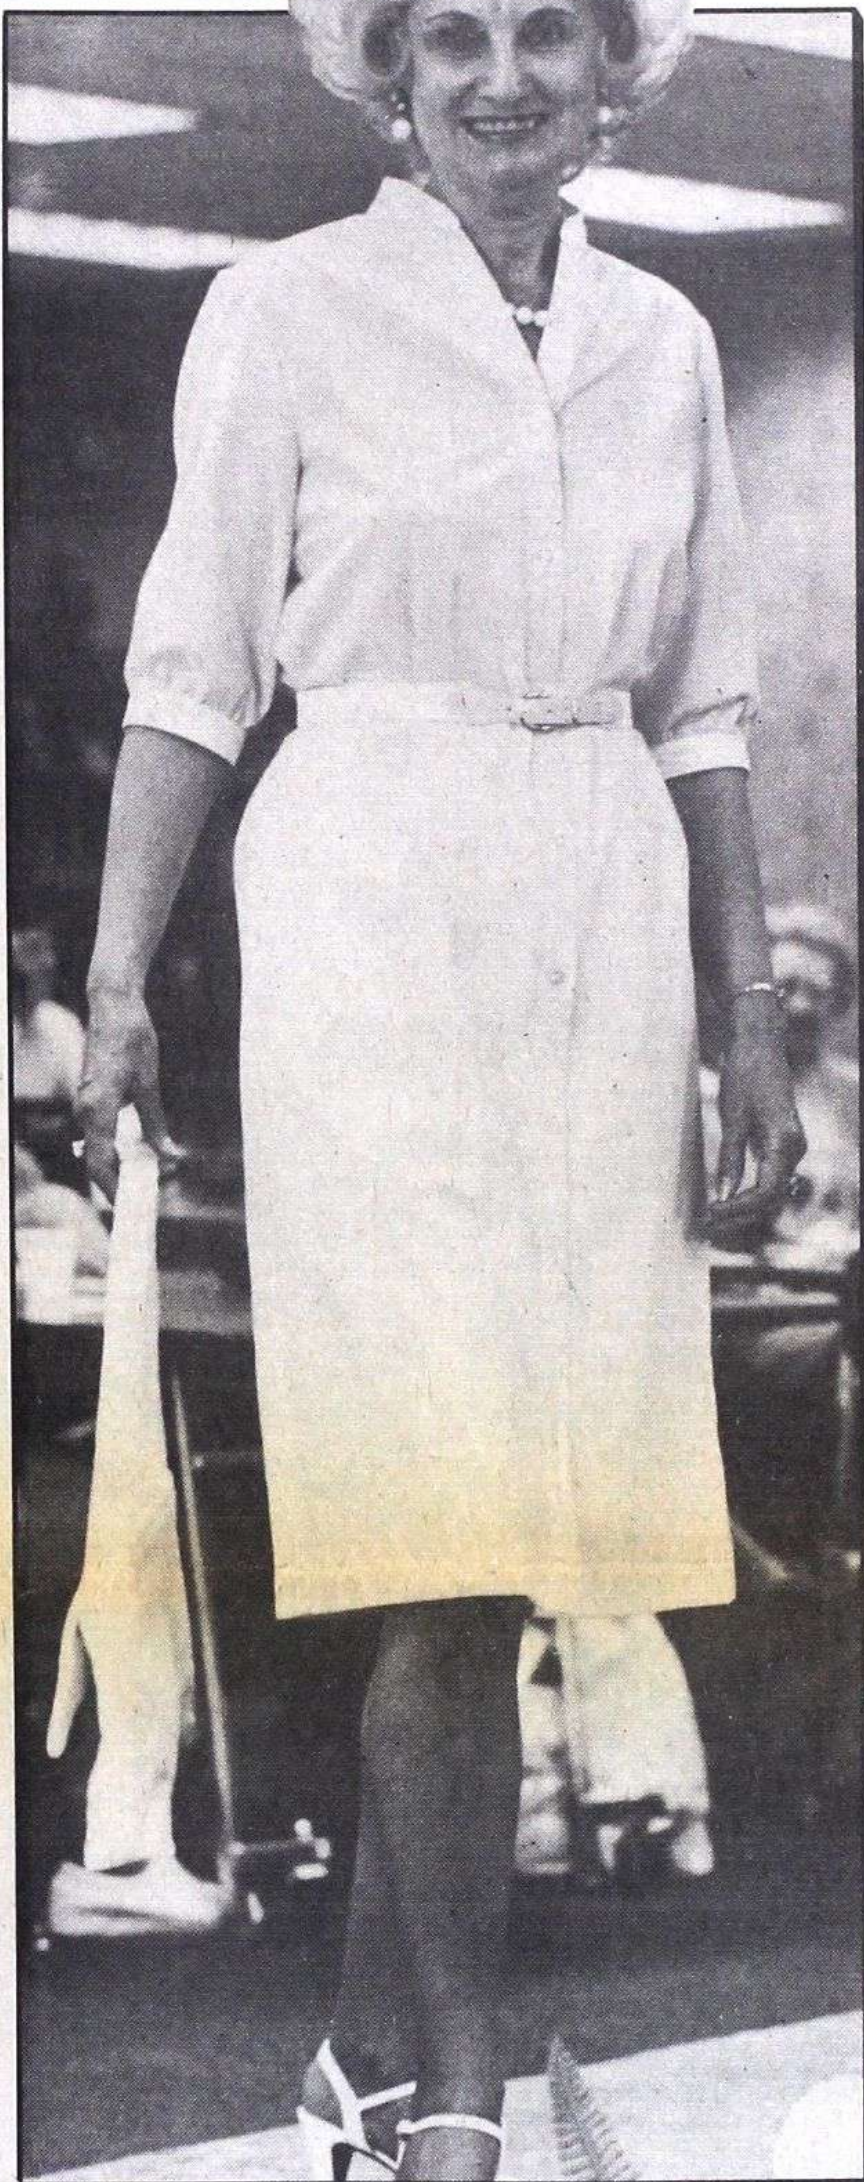

Students at the Marquette Room of the vocational school catered a luncheon for the seniors.

The show was coordinated by Jackie Lewis of the Dyer Center and narrated by Jerri Brown of Eva's Fashions.

Agnes Kevin, below, modeled a Stuart Petite loose-fitting smock dress with a crisp white tie for both comfort and style designed for the summer and spring.

Gladys Louwers, above, wore a Kaiser styled blue-stripe, knit, two-piece dress accented with a macramé bag also for spring and summer.

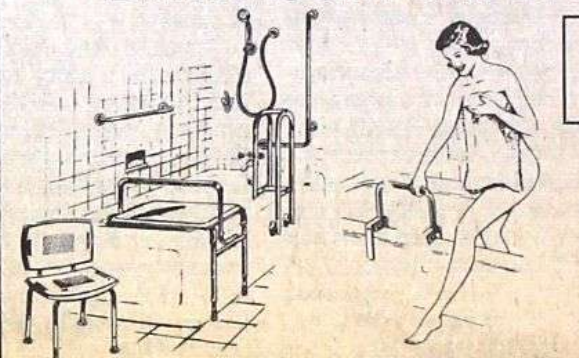

Angela Malino, above, was a show stopper in a pink classic shirt-waist by Kitty which was complemented by white jewelry and a new slimstyle handbag and sandals.

Marian Zuehlke wore a two-piece knit slack and blouse ensemble accented with a white vest, while Al White was the picture of masculine elegance in a three-piece suit with navy jacket and grey trousers.

'Seniors of the Year'

By SUE McDONALD
ANP News Editor

It is the belief that the golden years of life are the time to sit back, relax and take life easy. Not so for two Westlanders who have been selected as the Community's Seniors of the Year for leadership and service.

Well-known and well-liked Frank G. Moore and Margaret Nabb were selected as the 1983 inductees into the Department on Aging's Senior Hall of Fame as the result of their untiring work for and on behalf of senior citizens in Westland.

Mrs. Nabb, a native of Scotland, who came to this country at the age of 21, was selected by a panel of seven judges as the recipient of the department's service honorary, while Moore was honored for his leadership.

Mrs. Nabb is a 30-year member of the Wayne Ford Civic League and currently is serving as its Sunshine Chairman. She also is a 30-year member of the Rebekah Circle of the First United Methodist Church of Wayne and has worked diligently at raising funds for FISH, the emergency food program in Wayne and Westland.

She has served as the secretary of the Young at Heart Senior Citizen Club and currently holds the office of vice-president. She also is the treasurer of the Westland Senior Citizen Advisory Council for 1983.

As a volunteer she has worked at the Nightengale West Nursing Home through the Civic League and has supported food baskets for the blind, the March of Dimes, the Memorial Fund at the Senior Friendship Center, Salvation Army, Disabled American Veterans, Christian Appalachian Salesian Missions, American Brotherhood of the Blind, the Ewing W. Mays Mission for the hungry and Rev. Al Swartz's food for other countries campaign. She also has helped with hospitalized military veterans.

"This lady has been helping all her life," her nominating form read.

A resolution, passed by the Westland City Council, described Mrs. Nabb as "a compassionate, caring individual (who) has helped numerous individuals and organizations... by donation of time and money to assist those persons less fortunate than herself."

A widow, Mrs. Nabb has five children and six grandchildren.

"I was born in Scotland and came here at the age of 21," Mrs. Nabb said in accepting the award. "It was difficult at first, but I met a lot of nice people, including my husband. I like people; I love to be with people. People have always been nice to me and I'm nice to them."

Moore, a native of Sudbury, Ontario, Canada, has been actively involved in senior activities in the Westland Community since 1977, when he became a delegate to the Senior Citizen Advisory Council, a position he held until his appointment to the Westland Commission on Aging in 1979.

A retiree of the Ford Motor Company, his community involvement has included service on the executive board of the Area Agency 1-C and on its finance committee, nominations committee and planning committee; as chairman of the City Council's Aging Ordinance Committee; and on the Commission on Aging's Brunch Committee and Aging Workshop Committee.

He has served as the senior citizen representative to St. Richard's Church Parish Council, as the Friendship Club president, as chairperson of the 1980 Golden Jubilarian Ball, vice-president of the Tuesday Club of the Senior Adult Program, Wayne-Westland Community Schools, and co-chairman of the seniors' arts and crafts show of the Westland Summer Festival.

Married, he and his wife Julia have two children and three grandchildren.

His affiliations include the Wayne Moose Lodge, the Wayne Ford Civic League. He also has been a volun-

Canton clubs keep seniors busy

They take mystery trips, play softball, attend exercise classes, learn Japanese embroidery, wood-carving, ceramics, oil painting and other arts and crafts. They participate in the famous Canton Kitchen Band, play cards and bingo and are working hard on the float for the Canton Country Festival this year... and in their spare time they bowl and plan other assorted outings.

The word busy seems to have been coined for members of the three seniors clubs in Canton, the Royals, the Zesters and the Pioneers. While the Royals membership is limited to members of the Royal Holiday Mobile Home Park, they are every bit as active and involved as the Zesters and Pioneers when the time arrives to begin working on the lavish, and highly secret, float the seniors are preparing for the Country Festival parade this year. And several are also members of the Canton Kitchen Band, the group now famous for the music they make on washboards, kazoos and various household items.

The seniors meet officially with their respective groups on a weekly basis to plan their formal activities, according to Louise Spigarelli, assistant senior citizens coordinator for the township. While she noted that the Pioneers are the largest seniors club, it is 11 years old. The Zesters, a more social club was formed six years ago to serve the northern end of the township but the meeting place was moved to the recreation building on Michigan Avenue near Sheldon

Road and both clubs meet at the location now.

Seniors in the township are also eligible for a daily hot lunch program at the building, provided by Wayne County—there is an optional donation of 75 cents for the hot lunch, but it is free to those 60 years of age or older. For the 60 and under, or guests, the cost is $2.50.

The groups are all very active she noted and have many, many things planned at all times. In addition, the recreation building is a favorite spot to meet just to socialize and for pool playing—especially now that there are two, count them, two full-sized pool tables in the building, one a recent donation of a member.

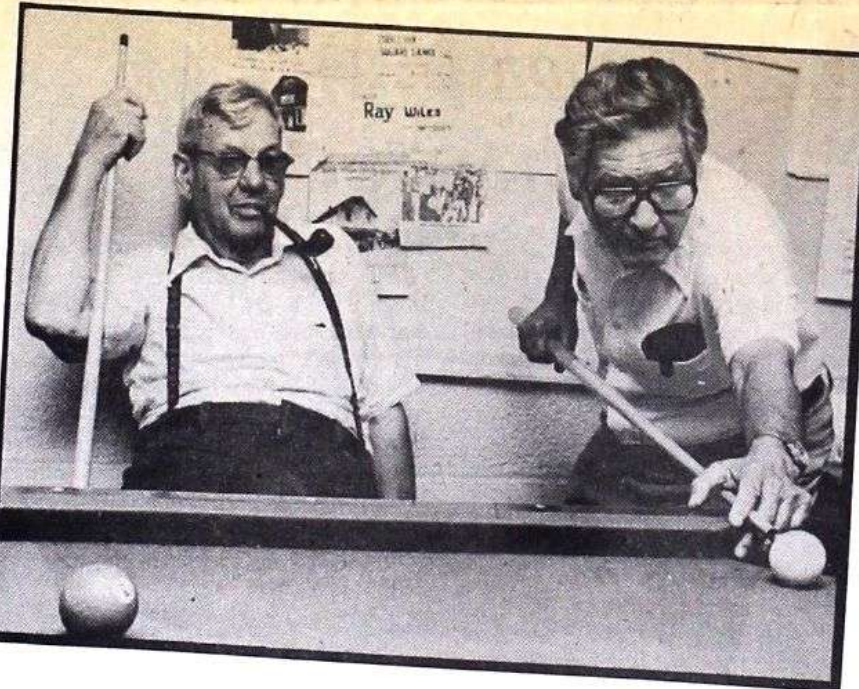

One of the combined groups' biggest activities this year was the St. Patrick's Day party at the Mayflower Hotel in Plymouth. The guests dressed in green, enjoyed a number of games and activities along with numerous door prizes. Canton seniors also participated in Senior Power Day in Lansing last week, when more than 6,000 senior citizens gathered at the state capitol to gain the audience of state legislators.

One of the most popular of the seniors activities are the mystery trips, slated by the groups. The cost can be anywhere from $1 to $30 and the participants never know where they might be going. "They've been to the zoo, to the cider mill, Bob-Lo, the horse track at Northville, and Jack Miners' Bird Sanctuary," Spigarelli said. "I can't really remember if those were mystery trips, though, they are always on the go."

Information about the groups is available through the township hall at 397-1000. The groups are sponsored by the Canton Township Parks and Recreation Department and operate solely on that basis. Only membership in the clubs is restricted to township residents. Most activities are open to the public.

Annual VIP tea planned

The Wayne-Westland Area Council of Parent Teacher Associations will host the Annual VIP Tea at the Dyer Center from 1 until 3 p.m. May 25.

The tea is sponsored annually to thank the senior citizens involved in the Wayne-Westland Volunteer Intergenerational Program.

Further information is available by phoning 595-2493.

'Home Sweet Home'

Wayne Living Center for Seniors, joined with thousands of nursing homes across the nation in celebrating National Nursing Home Week, May 8-14. "Memories Were Made to Be Shared" was the 1983 National Nursing Home Week theme. It was selected as a reminder to everyone in the country that nursing home residents want to share their many experiences with family and neighbors during National Nursing Home Week.

Wayne Living Center for Seniors, celebrated National Nursing Home Week with a Kick-Off May 11. Each of the residents, along with approximately 70,000 other Beverly Enterprise residents, released a balloon containing their name and address. A note inside the balloon requested that the finder write a letter to that resident and tell him where the balloon came down.

Seniors set arts, crafts show for 24th

The public is invited to an Arts and Crafts Show on Tuesday, May 24, from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m., at Van Buren Township Hall on Tyler Road. The show will feature work by September Days Seniors under the sponsorship of Van Buren Schools.

Directed by Mrs. Mary Fancher the show will include oil paintings, crafts, ceramics and woodworking. This will be the only opportunity to see all these useful and beautiful articles accomplished during the friendly leisure-time groups.

All classes are open to Seniors in the area. New classes will start the latter part of August, and Van Buren Schools System hopes the show will encourage many more women and men to join.

There is no charge for the show and none of the items is for sale. But as a thank-you for attending, cookies and coffee will be served throughout the day.

Of special interest to those attending between 7:30 and 9 p.m. will be the opportunity to attend the meeting of the Township Board.

BPW sending 'Careerist' to Mackinac Island confab

Eleanor Kostecki, Belleville Business and Professional Women's Club's Young Career Woman, has been chosen to represent the District XIII Clubs at their state convention.

A social worker with Out-Wayne County Head Start, Miss Kostecki works with the Van Buren Head Start Program at Quirk School and also with other school districts.

District XIII has eight area BPW clubs, four of which had Young Career Women representatives who competed at this level. The YCW program honors outstanding young working women. Each YCW spoke at her respective club level and then met at district. The other candidates were Margaret Ekaiko of Allen Park, Joe Marie Chapman of Dearborn and Jana Wallace of Wyandotte.

Miss Kostecki will represent the district at the BPW State Convention at Mackinac Island May 20-22. At that time she will meet, speak and be honored along with Young Career Women from throughout the state.

The heavenly aroma and mouthwatering goodness of this California Sunshine Breakfast will make it hard for your family to pass up. The surprise ingredient is prunes. Yes, prunes! They add a mellow sweet flavor and a satisfying chewy texture to this delectable morning treat.

California Sunshine Breakfast Bread

- 1 cup (about 6 ounces) pitted prunes, coarsely chopped
- ½ cup chopped nuts
- 2 tablespoons firmly packed brown sugar
- 1 teaspoon cinnamon
- 1½ cups sugar
- ¾ cup butter or margarine, softened
- 2 eggs
- 1 cup unflavored yogurt
- 2 tablespoons grated orange peel
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 2½ cups flour
- 2 teaspoons baking powder
- ½ teaspoon baking soda
- ½ teaspoon salt

Combine prunes, nuts, brown sugar and cinnamon; set aside. In mixing bowl cream sugar and butter until light and fluffy. Add eggs, one at a time, beating well after each addition. Combine yogurt, orange peel and vanilla; set aside. Sift together flour, baking powder, soda and salt; add to creamed mixture alternately with yogurt mixture. Spread half of batter evenly into greased and floured 12-cup tube pan; sprinkle with half of prune-nut mixture. Repeat with remaining batter and prune-nut mixture. Bake in 350 degree oven 50 to 60 minutes, until pick inserted into center comes out clean. Cool in pan 5 minutes. Loosen edges and invert onto rack. Reverse onto another rack, topping side up; cool completely. Makes 12 servings.

At women's club convention

Cathy Horste named 'Volunteer of the Year'

Cathy L. Horste, a member of the GFWC-Belleville Junior Study Club, has been selected as outstanding Volunteer of the Year by the Michigan State Federation of Junior Women's Clubs. Announcement of the accolade was made at the recent Michigan State Federation of Women's Clubs 88th Annual Convention in Traverse City.

The honoree, who will now compete on the national level with winners from 49 other states, was placed in nomination by her fellow members in the local club.

Some of the criteria for her choice included Mrs. Horste's active participation in club programs being involved in virtually every project.

She has held a total of nine different offices at the local, district and state Junior and General levels during the past year, having concluded her term as club president in late April and writing and conducting a new installation of officers ceremony.

She continued as publicity chairman for the remainder of the year and compiled a pressbook of local newspaper coverage of meetings and events as well as Federation programs and activities which contains in excess of 950 column inches for 10 months alone.

Having completed her term as Southeastern District Crime Reduction chairman last May, she continues to serve the district as secretary for the nominating committee, attending their meetings as necessary and keeping records.

She began a term as MSFJWC's secretary in May and also accepted the job of MSFJWC's membership and volunteers chairman. Also in May she began serving as MSFJWC's public relations-communications chairman.

In March she was appointed MFSWC crime reduction chairman and repeated the reporting activities a third time. In her two terms as chairman in that capacity (at district and state levels) she gave speeches on crime prevention for groups in Jackson, at the Southeastern District Leadership Conference, at the VA Hospital in Ann Arbor, at the Southeast Michigan Women's Facility and at the Clawson Women's Club.

As a result of newspaper articles on her appointment to the state chairmanship, the new Van Buren Township Chief of Police approached her about a special assignment with his department and she was sworn in as Township Crime Prevention Officer on March 23. In conjunction with her new appointment she has already received permission from the police department and the school district to implement a finger printing program for children through the schools which is scheduled to begin next month.

In one year's time, Mrs. Horste attended the MSFJWC State Convention in Marquette; its Summer Advisory Board meeting; Junior Board meetings; the Southeastern District Convention; the Southeastern District Leadership Conference; the Junior Fall Conference and the Great Lakes Conference; the Girlstown Ingathering; and the Leadership Development Conference in Big Rapids.

In the area of membership extension, she has been personally responsible for three new additions to the Belleville Junior Study Club, bringing the roster to 17.

Her involvement in the club's activities also included assistance to the chairman in the arts area; serving on the Van Buren Township Lake Commission as secretary in the conservation area and on the Van Buren Public Schools Advisory committee in the area of education.

She also has been actively involved in the Home Life Department, the Public Relations-Communications division, Special Project in Alcohol-Drug abuse; on the Ways and Means Committee and in the fall chaired an attempt at organizing a Juniors Club. She has also done volunteer work in conjunction with her employment at the VA Hospital.

We've been bombarded with TV commercials, radio spots, lapel buttons, billboards, handbills and countless bumper stickers that tell us to "Say YES to Michigan" and now's the time to do so since this particular week is officially designated "Michigan Week," by our legislators.

If you've been impressed by the campaign to put our state "back on the map," you'll especially want to cast your "aye" vote for the Wolverine territory these remaining four days of the celebration. It's a time to point with pride to a region comprised of 58,216 square miles which boasts 1,399 square miles of inland water, ranks 23rd in area with its sister states, was 26th in entering the Union and was 146 years old in January.

Despite a history of French explorers, traders and missionaries and a wealth of French titles (Detroit, Marquette, Sault Ste. Marie, Grosse Pointe) its major ethnic groups (according to the 1982 World Almanac) are Polish, German, English and Italian.

Michigan's principal industries are headed, of course, by manufacturing, then mining, agriculture, food processing, tourism and fishing. It's principal manufactured goods include automobiles, machine tools, chemicals, foods, primary metals and metal products and plastics.

The chief agricultural crops are corn, winter wheat, soy beans, dry beans, oats and hay. Then there are sugar beets, honey, asparagus, sweet corn, apples, cherries, grapes, peaches, blueberries and flowers.

And you thought we only grew cars in Michigan? Our automobile harvest is good, but you should see the production figures on beans, blueberries, cherries and wheat. We cross the finish line first among all states in the nation!

A recent study, searching out the finest Michigan foods, started in Traverse City, the Cherry Capital of the World (yes — not just the country — the world!) That's where 65 percent of the nation's red tart cherries are grown.

A story has it that our former first lady, Helen Milliken (who's made a few cherry pies in her 30 years as a Traverse City resident) made the cherry pie that Governor Rhodes of Ohio won in a bet with her husband on a Michigan-Ohio State game. And the home-grown cherries she used can be credited to the French colonists who first planted pits along the Great Lakes.

But don't think Michigan's fruit fame is limited to cherries. We're also number one in blueberries. Forty-five percent of the nation's crop comes from Southwestern Michigan; quite a feat considering agricultural experts once said the state was too cold to grow blueberries commercially. The little tasty morsels are found in Smucker's Preserves, Sara Lee Cheesecake, Dannon Yogurt, Kellogg's Pop-tarts and countless jars of home-made jam.

And there's just nothing like a crisp Michigan apple (right, BG?) Michigan is the third largest apple producer in the nation with Jonathans, Northern Spys and Paulareds among the favorites.

Then there's that wonderful navy bean soup made with Michigan's number-one-in-the-nation bean crop. On that subject, our new First Lady, Paula Blanchard, has expressed pride that everyday this Michigan treat is enjoyed in the Congressional dining room in Washington, D.C.

Like so many of us, she says, she would use Michigan products exclusively were she aware of what is homegrown. Recently the Department of Agriculture conducted a consumer survey and found that 51 percent of those questioned had difficulty identifying Michigan products. But over 76 percent said that if they knew it was produced here, they'd buy it over the same product from another state.

Not too many Michigan foods are clearly labeled "Michigan." To increase consumer awareness, that department is mounting a new campaign to "Say yes to Michigan foods." Soon you'll be seeing posters, pennants, buttons and balloons at your grocer's which will help you select the many delicious and nutritious Michigan brands.

You can start your day with Michigan maple syrup (processed everywhere in the Great Lakes State) poured over a stack of whole wheat pancakes; then slice into a sweet Howell melon topped with Michigan cottage cheese or enjoy a farm fresh omelet bursting with Michigan onions, green peppers and tomatoes.

For lunch have a bacon, lettuce and tomato sandwich and an ice cold glass of locally-produced milk. Your dinner can include the state's chickens, turkeys, beef or pork with Michigan baked potatoes topped with our own sour cream or melted cheese from Pinconning.

For dessert, take your pick. We're the eighth largest producer of ice cream (to go with Michigan apple, cherry, peach or blueberry pie); or make it a strawberry sundae since we're the fourth largest producer of the little red gems that puts Belleville in the spotlight each June.

What don't we produce in Michigan? Now that's a tough one. There's even a Michigan signature on your favorite beer.

With all that good food going for us (plus Mackinac Island, Tahquamenon Falls, the sand dunes, the Soo Locks, Greenfield Village and the Henry Ford Museum, Tuliptime in Holland, our access to Canada, our magnificent fall season, etc., etc., etc.) it's really not hard to say yes to Michigan.

HELP NEEDED

One of the hardest working bunches of people in our community are those connected with the Belleville Tiger Booster Club. They are dedicated go-getters out to keep athletics alive at Belleville High School. And they're only able to do so with fund-raising activities (you see a new one mentioned almost every week in this paper.)

Well, folks, they need your help again and this is an easy one, particularly for you gals who are into spring cleaning. The Boosters have a big, big flea market coming up in June and they're looking for good, clean, useable, workable items to put on sale.

So, don't throw out those extra salt and pepper shakers, those lawn chair frames, the kids' outgrown ice skates, that old set of golf clubs. Lots of things you might consider "junkie" could well be someone's "treasure" and a real find at the sale.

Clubsters will even pick up your offerings if you'll call Art Pence at 697-7045. The "market" is slated for Lakewood Shopping Center all day June 4. So when you're pitching those "oldies", pitch 'em their way.

Four area students receive 'Medal of Merit' accolades

Four local students were among the 23 individuals named recently to receive Congressman William D. Ford's annual "Congressional Medal of Merit for Outstanding Youth."

The local recipients were Tami Harkai of Belleville; Cheryl Simpson of New Boston and James P. Holbrook and Marlene Carpenter of Romulus.

"The range of volunteerism, achievement and commitment of these young people is an outstanding tribute to their families, schools and communities," Congressman Ford commented as he presented Congressional medals at the Mother's Day ceremony held at the Wayne County Extension and Education Center in Wayne.

The youngest of the quartet was Tami Harkai, 16, the daughter of Bob and Diann Harkai of Venetian Ave., Belleville, and the granddaughter of Frank and Betty Harkai and Erma Dunkelberger, all of Belleville.

A Belleville High School senior and member of the BHS Band, she played flute for nine years, participated in the Jazz Band after school, was in the BHS Marching Band and also served with the color guard.

In the Solo and Ensemble Festival, her flute duet earned her a rating of I at the District Level which qualified her for the State level at Eastern Michigan University where she received a rating of II.

The Congressional Medal of Merit award speaks of her many outstanding service contributions to her school, her church (St. John Lutheran) and the community of New Boston.

One of two Romulus students honored, James P. Holbrook, the 18-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Holbrook of Romulus, was recognized for his volunteer renovation of the Oakwoods Metro Park Nature Center (Sky Come Down Trail). He is a senior at Romulus High School.

—Short subjects—

Considering how much fathers do for their families throughout the year, it's only fitting that they be honored with their own national holiday. This year Father's Day will be celebrated Sunday, June 19th.

But dads haven't always had a special day. While attempts had been made to gain recognition for fathers, it wasn't until 1924 that Father's Day was made a national holiday by Calvin Coolidge. Its position among national holidays was confirmed by the signing of a Father's Day bill by Richard M. Nixon in 1972.

What's the official Father's Day entree endorsed by the Father's Day Council? Beef, of course! Because for Father's Day, nothing satisfies like beef.

What will be headlining the Father's Day cookout menu at your house? Chances are, it will be thick, juicy steaks for somehow, nothing satisfies dad like beef.

This special occasion calls for a special steak such as a Porterhouse or T-bone. Or bring a smile to dad's face with a tempting rib steak or flavor-some sirloin. If boneless steaks are your preference, choose a boneless top loin, rib eye or prestigious tenderloin.

CHANGING YOUR FACIAL CONTOUR

Although the human body continues to change throughout life, changes in the adult occur much more slowly than in the child and are called "maturing features." In most people, the middle, autumn and later years of life are characterized by a thinning and sharpening of the facial contours. During these years, the support provided by intact teeth is critically important in maintaining a symmetrical and pleasing facial appearance.

The teeth, especially the front teeth (incisors) and the eye teeth (canines), provide direct support to the shape of the lips, corner of the mouth, and front part of the cheeks. If these teeth are not replaced immediately, their loss can cause or accentuate folding, drooping and hollowing of the facial tissues resulting in facial features that can be unattractive and downright unpleasant.

In the older person, loss of the bicuspid and molars (back teeth) accentuates the hollow configuration of the cheeks and deepens the natural lines and wrinkles. You only have one face. Don't let negligence keep it from looking as young as you are for life. Replace any missing teeth now!

BPW continues Kentucky Derby party tradition

The date of the Kentucky Derby has traditionally become the time for the Belleville Business and Professional Women's Club (BPW) to meet for a social purpose only. Saturday, May 7, was no exception.

Members and one guest, Wilma Kremer, Dearborn BPW Club president, met at the home of Georgia Badgett for four o'clock cocktails and to watch the race on TV.

Following a progressive dinner pattern, salad and dinner were served at the home of the newly installed president, Faye Sotomayer, and dessert at the home of past-president Ann Pavelka where singing also helped conclude the fun-filled day.

Churchill captures Hidenfelter Relays

Chargers dominate field events and 24th annual championships

Pre-tournament favorite Livonia Churchill amassed six first places and 93 points to top a field of 10 teams to capture the 24th annual Harry Hidenfelter Track & Field Relays held on Saturday at Belleville High School.

Coming off of an impressive victory at the Redford Union Invitational, Coach Fred Price's Chargers held off a challenge by the defending champ and host, Belleville, which finished second with 87 points. Wayne Memorial was third.

"Churchill has an excellent team," said Belleville's Dave Medley, "and they truly earned the victory. I also thought that my kids ran a superb race in almost every event."

"The meet was extremely fast and, I can't remember when we had a faster field."

The weather, uncooperative in the last four weekends, was perfect for track last Saturday.

Churchill dominated the field events, taking four of the five events: shot put, discus, high jump and pole vault, while leaving the long jump to Wayne Memorial.

Belleville, however, finished 1-2 in the 2-mile open race as John Fisher led teammate Dave Claverella across the finish line. The Tigers also won the high hurdle shuttle and the 4-mile relay.

Cherry Hill picked up the 2-mile relay and also was the team to beat in the 440-yard relay.

Belleville and Romulus will join a score of other high school teams on Saturday to compete for the Class A regional championship hosted by Wyandotte, while Wayne will join Westland John Glenn and a 18 area teams to battle for regional honors at Bloomfield Hills.

Dick Gordon and his Cherry Hill Spartans will take a perfect 6-0 Tri-River Conference record to Oxford on Saturday where they hope to win their first Class B regional crown. They'll have to contend with Marysville, a team that edged the Spartans for the Port Huron Invitation title, at that regional.

"I firmly believe that our kids believe they can beat Marysville," said Coach Gordon. The kids have the confidence, and we also have the depth. We have been pointed to this all year."

The top three individuals and the top three teams in each of the events and relays respectively will qualify for the state finals to be held the first week of June.

Danny Smith, clocked in 1:56.0 for his anchor leg, led the Spartans to the impressive victory in the 2-mile relay at Belleville. Ed Mulrooney, Richard Smith and Eric Wohlfeil rounded out the four-some, while Earl Truss, Steve Sheahan, Vandale Tate and Lou Smith set a school record of 43.7 to win the 440-yard relay.

The Spartans established another school best when they finished second in the mile relay with Richard Smith, Earl Truss, Lou Smith and Danny Smith. They were clocked in 3:22.9.

Crossing the victory barrier

Former Garden City track and cross country ace Donnie Anderson captured the inaugural running of the Romulus Community Pride 10-K race last Saturday as he toured the 10,000 meter in an impressive 32:47.0.

Anderson, now 30, led a field of approximately 200 runners who competed in the race. Results of the race are on Page C-2.

Salem's girls win WW crown

Plymouth Salem, claiming three of the four first places in the field events, edged Wayne Memorial by three points to capture the inaugural running of the Western Wayne Track & Field Championships staged for girls and held at Westland John Glenn.

Coach Fred Thomann's team picked up gold medals in the long jump, high jump and discus and also fielded the best medley and mile relay teams to win the 8-team invitational. The Rockets piled up a total of 69 points.

Coach Ernie Righetti's Rockets at Glenn had 66 points and also the top shot put, 2-mile, 4-mile teams and Westland Laura Grazulis won the open 2-mile run with a 12:26.2 effort.

"For a first time we felt there were a lot of good performances," said Righetti. "As the results showed, the meet was a very close one."

Brown's last of seventh single lifts Rockets past Garden City, 10-9

September 17, 1968 Don Wert singles in Al Kaline from third base in the ninth inning to defeat the New York Yankees, 2-1, and clinch the American League pennant.

In just as dramatic fashion, the Rockets of Westland John Glenn came up with a wild and exciting 10-9 victory over Garden City last Friday afternoon, as pinch-hitter Doug Brown singled with one out in the seventh inning to score Glenn Belcher from Second base with the winning run.

As a result, the Rockets improved their record to 3-4 in the Northwest Suburban League and now stand fourth in the conference.

"This game made the lost to RU hurt even more, especially with Thurston losing," said Coach Norm Hoenes.

Garden City, on the other hand, has now dropped their last two league games and find themselves tied for first with Thurston. The race could be decided later on this week when the Cougars take on Thurston in a doubleheader.

The game certainly did not start out well for the Cougars as Glenn sent nine men to the plate, with six of them scoring. Cougar starter Mike Krauss, who had beaten the Rockets 8-4 in the previous contest between the two teams, gave up nearly as many hits in this inning (5) as he did the first time in seven innings (7).

Singles by Cass Simpson and Bruce Billings and a walk to Tim Filary loaded the bases for the Rockets in that first fram. Chris Merandi unloaded them with a two-run single and Bob Kujawski and Belcher followed with clutch singles of their own to produce a 6-0 Rocket lead.

But the Cougars came back with three runs of their own off Rocket starter Donn Wolfe. The Cougars loaded the bases on singles by Milligan and Krol and a hit batsman. Booth singled for two runs and Ferrell followed with a base hit for two more.

Glenn responded with a run in the second to make it 7-3, but the Cougars came back to tie it at seven runs apiece in the bottom of the inning. One run scored on a wild pitch and the other three on fielder's choices.

Wolfe settled down and retired the next eight hitters in a row while his teammates gathered two runs for him.

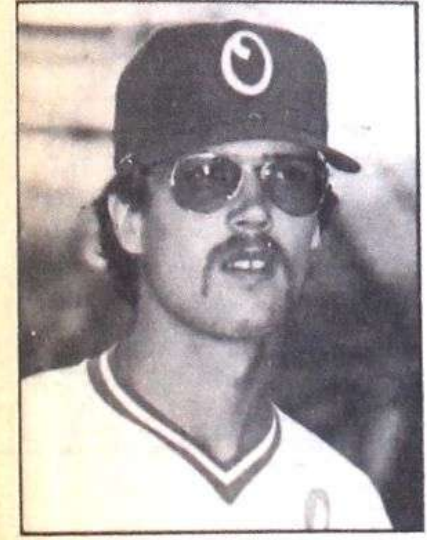

Said Hoenes of his junior hurler: "It was a typical Wolfe game. A lot of pitches, a lot of walks," but he survived all to claim the win.

The Rockets manufactured a run in the third on a single by Kujawski, a stolen base, an error, and a sacrifice fly by Simpson. In the fifth, the Rockets made it 9-7 on back-to-back

Sheridan launches Royals career with HR

Seven years ago, Pat Sheridan was a much-heralded three-sport star at Wayne Memorial High School.

Today, he is a member of the Kansas City Royals baseball team, and as Dick Howser, his manager, put it, "We're bringing him to play, not to sit on the bench."

The 25-year-old former Zebra football, basketball, and baseball player started the season in Omaha, the Royals' top farm club. His first month in Omaha (4 homers, 14 rbi) and a .307 average prompted Howser to promote him when regular centerfielder Jerry Martin suffered from tendinitis in his wrist and was placed on the disabled list.

Sheridan was up with the Royals in 1981 for three games but spent all of 1982 on the Triple A level. He belted a HR against the Tigers Sunday.

Sheridan played his college baseball at Eastern Michigan University.

Romulus plays the winner

Belleville, Ann Arbor Huron clash in qualifying round

While Belleville finds itself in a "must game" against Ann Arbor Huron on Thursday, neighboring Romulus is awaiting the outcome of the pre-district Class A baseball match to learn who the Eagles must beat to qualify for the district tournament.

Belleville will host Huron for the pre-district qualifier at 3:30 p.m. The winner then takes on Coach Dennis Stoh's Eagles on May 27.

In the meantime, Belleville and Romulus split a doubleheader last week as Tim Chambers, a junior lefthander pitched the Tigers to a 7-5 win in the opener, and right-hander Bill Coaltrain scattered seven Belleville hits to give Romulus a 4-1 victory in the nightcap.

Belleville came up with two runs in the bottom of the seventh to break a 5-all deadlock when Ron Schubert led off with a double off of loser Matt Percy, then Percy made the mistake of feeding Glenn Arquette a curve ball that Arquette hammered into right center field for a two-run homer.

Chambers fattened his personal record to 3-1 on the year as he went the distance, struck out nine and walked five in allowing the Eagles four hits. Percy was tagged for nine hits in a five strikeout, three walk performance.

Coaltrain's sacrifice fly after Rich Dybicki had walked, moved to second on a pitching error and to third on Nick Panek's single produced Romulus' first inning run. The Eagles went ahead after Belleville tied the game in the bottom of the first, scored another in the second, 2-1.

In the top of the third Romulus put two runs on the scoreboard on a walk to Dybicki, Panek's sacrifice, a single by Coaltrain and Percy's grounder to third that was booted. Singles by Eddy Eddings, Dybicki and Percy accounted for the Eagles' two runs in the fifth.

The Tigers received three (of four) hits from Dennis Overholt who sliced a pair of singles and a double and had two RBIs while Keith Riling collected a homer and two runs batted in.

Coaltrain, with Panek aboard, got to losing pitcher Steve Korgal for a two-run blast in the second game and the Eagles also scored a pair of runs in the sixth thanks to singles by Percy, Dave Blevins and Mark Searcy to avenge the earlier loss.

Belleville averted the shutout in the fourth when Korgal led off with a double and scored on Arquette's single. Arquette got three of the Belleville seven hits off of winner, Coaltrain who received some relief help from Dybicki.

Coach Stoh said he is pleased with the progress the team is making. "If our defense holds up I feel we will be ready for the May 27 playoffs," Stoh said.

The Eagles rallied in the bottom of the seventh to edge Dundee 6-5 earlier in the week as Rich Dybicki received credit for the win in relief of Coaltrain. Coaltrain departed in the fifth with the score tied at 5-all.

In the bottom of the seventh the Eagles broke it open when loser Jim Ford gave up a walk to Panek who was forced at second by Coaltrain's fielder's choice. Percy then sacrificed and, with two away, Matt Sullivan delivered the game-winning hit, smacking the ball to first who bobbled the play.

A homer by Mark Searcy that cleared the left field fence paved the way for a 3-run Romulus fourth inning while singles by Boatright, Panel and Coaltrain provided the Eagles with a first inning run.

Romulus is at Willow Run Wednesday night (8 p.m.) and will travel to Trenton for a 4 p.m. game on Thursday as the Eagles attempt to get in some of their rainouts.

Dearborn blocks the path

Tigers stay in title chase

This is the week that will tell Coach Tom Fielder and the Belleville Tigers if they will share the final Suburban 8, now Suburban 4, Conference baseball championship.

Belleville stayed in the title chase last week with a 5-3 victory over Trenton and a 3-1 triumph over Edsel Ford. If the Tigers can snatch a win from the Dearborn Pioneers, they can claim half of the title.

The Suburban 8 Conference is scheduled for oblivion after the current school year when Belleville joins the newly-organized Wolverine A Conference.

John Dillon, whose earned run average is an enviable 1.06, fired a one-hitter, struck out four and walked six in beating Trenton for his fourth win in five starts.

Loser Brian Markus lasted five innings as the Tigers scored three runs in the bottom of the third and one each in the fifth and sixth inning to pick up the victory.

Belleville took the lead in the third when Eric Edwards was safe on an error, then Ron Schubert singled and Keith Riling also singled, loading the bases.

Dillon helped his cause with a two-run single and Steve Korgal then drove in the third run with a base hit.

The Tigers made it 4-0 in the fifth on a leadoff walk to Dillon who eventually moved into scoring position on a groundout and Lemasters' single. In the sixth, Edwards singled and moved to second on a groundout, then scored on Riling's second hit of the game.

Edwards allowed the T-Birds five hits, struck out four and walked three in his 3-1 victory over the Dearborn-based ballclub. He's 4-1 on the season. Loser Andy Berger went the distance, fanned three and walked an equal number in a eight-hit pitching effort.

The Tigers got a single run in the first inning as Riling's single drove homer Dennis Overholt who had doubled. After Edsel had tied the game in the top of the second at 1-all, Belleville broke it open on a two-out Randy Lemasters safe-on-an-error, then he stole second and scored with Tim Winnie's single.

The Tigers put an insurance run on the scoreboard when Berger issued walks to lenn Arquette and Koral and, with two-away, Lemasters singled a single, scoring the run.

Anderson, Ward are winners in Romulus' inaugural marathon

More than 150 runners took to the field during the inaugural Romulus Community Pride 10-K run on Saturday and when the competition was over former prep star, Donnie Anderson of Wayne and Detroit Mary Beth Dillon-Ward captured over-all honors.

The marathon was staged in conjunction with Michigan Week.

"We were really amazed at the turnout," said Dennis Davidson Romulus Parks and Recreation Director and race coordinator. "We thought if 75 showed up it would be a good turnout, however, we had 158 runners. We even had some runners who had participated in the Boston Marathon.

"It's something we look forward to doing next year," he added.

Mad Anthony's

New name, new atmosphere produce positive results in Wayne

by DENNIS NIEMIEC
Feature Editor

The name, Mad Anthony's, is new. So is most of the interior, a result of a $200,000 renovation project. As for the atmosphere, well suffice to say that the situation has mellowed considerably since this Wayne restaurant was known as Prince and Pauper.

Today Mad Anthony's still caters to an adult crowd but the emphasis is on fine foods and beverages. Luncheon specials are priced at $3.95 and dinner offerings start at $4.95.

It only takes one step in the door at 4915 S. Wayne Road (south of Michigan Ave.) to note the change in what once served as a residential dwelling. The guady red, black and blue motif has been replaced with a much softer look, including wood paneling, new furnishings and a bar accentuated by a stained glass background.

Everything hanging on the walls as well as some of the unusual furnishings come from famous hotels across the country and are for sale. Items are available through the American Hotel Salvage Company, which purchases contents of well known hotels that are going out of business or being redecorated.

"We've changed the image here from what was a wild and lustful cocktail scene to a place where adults can get together for an economical dining experience," explained David Ferguson, co-owner of Mad Anthony's with partner Jim Godre. "Our prices are within reach of most everyone."

Daytime chef Albert Heyza varies the $3.95 daily luncheon special to include such entrees as Swiss steak, a Delmonico steak sandwich, stuffed cabbage, barbequed spare ribs and cod fillets. Sandwich selections range in price from $3.25 for the grilled bacon and cheese or ham and cheese to $4.25 for the hot corned beef or prince dip, beef served on a miniature loaf of bread with cottage cheese or french fries.

A growing clientele of businessmen are finding the luncheon entrees to be of top quality — chopped sirloin, lake perch, pepper steak, breaded shrimp and spaghetti to name a few. These luncheons include salad, spaghetti or potato and bread.

In the evening chef Orville Betts prepares a menu that highlights various steak and seafood entrees. Dinners come with a cup of soup, salad or cole slaw, potato or spaghetti, relish platter and bread basket.

"The old approach was to specialize in a couple of items," Ferguson said, "but there's no reason why a restaurant cannot offer a broad range of entrees. Everything here is done from scratch and we limit the amount of deep fried foods. Primarily we offer more broiled or grilled foods."

Among the dinner choices are: New York strip steak ($8.95), filet mignon ($9.95), broiled chopped sirloin ($6.95), baked chicken ($5.95), seafood platter ($9.95), king crab legs (market price), dover sole ($7.95) and shrimp scampi ($8.95). Salads and sandwiches also are served throughout the dinner hours (4 p.m. to 1 p.m.).

Mad Anthony's, named for Gen. Anthony Wayne of the Revolutionary War era, offers half-priced drinks during its "Attitude adjustment hours" (4 to 7 p.m.) and soon will introduce a two-for-one, "Double Bubble" special.

Managed by Krystyna Kwiatkowski, the restaurant is open from 11 a.m. to 11 p.m. weekdays; 4 p.m. to 11 p.m. Saturdays, and is closed on Sundays. Reservations at the 150-seat establishment are accepted by calling 728-1783.

'Star-Spangled Girl' provides evening of entertainment

By DENNIS NIEMIEC
Feature Editor

Norman loves Sophie. The mere sight of his new neighbor through binoculars sends Norman into convulsions. He becomes a distracted writer who can't write anymore, a fact that unnerves his roommate and business partner Andy.

Of course, Sophie isn't the least bit enamored with Norman. It's Andy who has caught her eye.

Sound familiar? It should. Love triangles are as common on stage or on film as scenery. The keys to a successful production that centers on a love triangle must be found in the script and in the performances.

In the case of Neil Simon's "The Star-Spangled Girl," it's the performers who turn a mediocre script into an evening of laughs at the Comedy Players Dinner Theatre in Allen Park.

young woman bothered by a neighbor who will go to any length to grab her attention. Her expressions of outrage provide some of the comedy's best moments.

Written in the mid-1960's to coincide with the Vietnam War protests, "The Star-Spangled Girl" falls far short as a vehicle for any political message. Simon seems content to deal with the implications of the protest magazine "Fallout" in superficial references.

What is left then is the dialogue of the three characters to carry the load. Fortunately Turek, Paraventi and Scheier have a wealth of stage experience and are able to best bring out the play's primary strength, its light-hearted romantic fun.

Director Bill Salisbury and Producer Janice Salisbury have made notable strides in their efforts to offer a professional dinner theater product. Their staging at the Allen Park Motor Lodge leaves the viewer as close to the performers as possible, making one feel that he actually was looking in the window of the San Francisco apartment where the action occurs.

A complete prime rib dinner, served to the table, was of top quality and included a relish tray, salad, potato and dessert. A cash bar also is available.

"The Star-Spangled Girl" will be featured Friday and Saturday evenings through June at the Allen Park Motor Lodge, located on Southfield between the I-75 and I-94 expressways. Tickets are priced at $14.95 for the dinner theater package and must be reserved by calling 386-1300 or 661-1383.

The management and staff of Mad Anthony's pose at the restaurant's new bar, a part of the recent $200,000 renovation project at the establishment. Formerly the Prince and Pauper, Mad Anthony's features luncheon and dinner specials six days a week. In addition to its diversified menu, the establishment offers for sale paintings and furnishings from famous hotels across the country. Mad Anthony's is located at 4915 S. Wayne Road in Wayne.

A small but appreciative opening night crowd was treated recently to the versatile talents of Ron Turek, Kathy Paraventi and Paul Scheier, who breathed life into Simon's tale of two struggling men putting out a protest magazine and the All-American girl next door.

Turek in particular kept the first act moving along with his energetic portrayal of Norman Cornell. Turek's frenzied movements, sweating brow and high pitched dialogue conveyed the emotional Norman to a tee.

Scheier's characterization of Andy Hobart provided a nice foil to Turek's Norman and his fits of ideological rage proved convincing. His manner of evading a bill collector will amuse anyone who has ever needed to "buy time."

Cast as the Olympic swimmer Sophie Rauschmeyer, Paraventi proves to be a believable patriot and even more believable as a

Foley deserves attention

ELLEN FOLEY "Another Breath" (Epic)

Ellen Foley's debut LP, "Nightout," was produced by rockers Ian Hunter and Mick Ronson, and although it is an extremely good album, it's more of a Ronson guitar show than it is an Ellen Foley show.

Likewise on her second LP, "Spirit of St. Louis," which was produced (and dominated) by boyfriend Mick Jones of the Clash. Instead of a real Foley record, it was a sort of "Sandinista, pt. 2."

But now the real proof of Foley's talent is laid bare for all to hear, because producer Vini Poncia has no personal interest here other than producing. The result is one of the best pop albums of the year; this is an album that Linda Ronstadt would kill to make, but never will.

ELLEN FOLEY

Highlights include a hot cover version of the old Martha and the Vandellas' tune "Come And Get These Memories," "Boys In The Attic," which was written by songwriting legend Ellie Greenwich, and also a couple of songs co-written by Foley, "Read My Lips," which is a nifty little item helped along by Desmond Child, and "Run For My Life," a sure-fire hit single co-written by Greenwich.

For those of you not familiar with Foley, perhaps you remember her as the female vocalist on Meatloaf's "Paradise By The Dashboard Light," or you may have seen her in the film "Tootsie," where she played a supporting role — she was the beautiful blonde assistant producer at the television studio, and she also has a small part in the new movie "King Of Comedy."

The point is, this woman has a lot of talent, and thus far in her career, it's never been more evident than it is on "Another Breath."

THE BELLE STARS (Warner Bros.)

The Belle Stars are a seven-woman British band with their musical roots as American as the proverbial apple pie.

With hand-clapping, foot-tapping tunes like their good-time remakes of "Needle In a Haystack," "The Clapping Song," "Harlem Shuffle," and "Mockingbird," it's nearly impossible to dislike this record.

Make no mistake about it — this isn't an LP to change the world (as the Clash try valiantly to do) or to break down barriers. It's good, well-done simple rock and roll — akin to Bananarama, only 24½ times more interesting.

The biggest surprise with a group of this type, which obviously counts a lot on cover versions of other songs, is the songwriting, at which the Belle Stars seem more than adept; actually they're quite good. As a matter of fact, the hit U.K. single "Sign Of The Times," which the group penned, is climbing up the American charts now as well as receiving a good amount of air-play on MTV. It's a song with, as they say, a groove.

It seems likely the Belle Stars are going to be the new Manhattan Transfer — spending an equal amount of time on original material and on reconditioning great ones from the past. And while it probably won't always be the first album pulled from your record collection, it's bound to be played over and over at your next party, sort of like aural red shoes.

THE BLASTERS "Non Fiction" (Warner Bros.)

The Blasters, a critically-acclaimed (and take it from me, those guys are always right) rock-a-billy band with their roots in the L.A. new music (no one says "punk" anymore) scene, have just released their third and best album to date.

A notoriously hot touring band, the sweat seems to practically pour right off of "Non Fiction," with vocalist/guitarist Phil Alvin doing his best to convince listeners that American rock'n'roll is still alive and well.

As close in feel to Creedence Clearwater Revival as to the Stray Cats, the Blasters have in songwriter Dave Alvin (brother of Phil) their ticket to the top. His direct and diverse song stylings have already garnished him a number-one single in England, "Marie, Marie," which was recorded by Shakin' Stevens.

Alvin's best songs here include "Boontown," a rocker about home-town unemployment which should be easily accessible to people in this area; "Long White Cadillac," which has a bleak enough aural landscape to have been on Springsteen's "Nebraska" album, and "It Must Be Love," which happily exclaims "He's nervous and jumpin' like a chicken/One with it's head cut off/Look out, it must be love!"

"Non Fiction" also holds the 1983 record for most songs on an LP dedicated, with dedications here going out to Hank Williams, Po' Joe Williams, and last, but probably not least, the San Gabriel River Bed. Every record collection should have at least one song dedicated to the San Gabriel River Bed in it, and here's your chance to get one.

Romulus Community Schools

Prekindergarten screening on schedule

Prekindergarten screening for all Romulus children was recently conducted at Cory Elementary School.

Children attending were given a number of "tasks" to assess their developmental levels before starting kindergarten in September.

Mrs. Newman, Principal at Cory, who has supervised this screening for years believes screening is important.

"Children who have special needs receive help right away so that school will be a successful experience," she said.

"There are other advantages to this screening program. Some children may need to be referred to an agency for medical care. Others will receive further testings at school starting in September such as speech evaluation, further readiness testing, Mrs. Newman added.

Lorraine Daly and Carol Harrieff donated many hours over a period of two weeks before screening began, arranging appointments for parents.

Between 50 and 60 children were screened the first day, Thursday, May 12. To accomplish this task Mrs. Newman needed many workers.

Parents who supervised tasks were: Midge Hamel, Linda DesJardin, Toby Fowler, Jill Avery, Janice Banko, Patricia Ditch, Patricia Jones, Lorraine Daly and Carol Harrieff.

Paraprofessionals assisting included: Toni Dorenzo, Phyllis Kreft, Sally Cardwell, Joanne Whitefoot.

You can do it

Five-year-old Nora Hansen puts on a show as she demonstrates her hopping skills for Christine Consales during Romulus Community Schools' recent prekindergarten screening program. Some 50 to 60 children took part in the first day of the tests.

Some tips to help you save time, money

Food preservation methods, particularly home canning methods, have changed considerably since Grandma's day.

Today's home canning recommendations are the result of extensive research and are known to provide safe and high quality products, says Eleanor Rhinesmith, Wayne County Cooperative Extension home economist. To learn all the latest procedures in canning, pickling, freezing, drying and jam and jelly making you may enroll in the classes being offered at the Wayne County Extension Center. Classes will begin June 14.

The cost is $25 for 18 hours of instruction. Certificates are awarded for satisfactory completion of the course. Graduates are expected to volunteer 10 hours of service to the canning program.

For more information call 721-6565. Register early as class size is limited.
